

JURY FINDS HOFFA GUILTY

Convicted On Charges Of Trying To Fix Trial

... KENNEDY CONGRATULATES PROSECUTORS

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was convicted Wednesday, along with three other men, on charges of trying to fix the jury which heard Hoffa's conspiracy trial in Nashville in 1962.

Hoffa, stocky leader of the nation's largest labor union, sat in stunned silence as jury foreman Hal W. Bullen of Chattanooga read the verdict — guilty on two counts and innocent on a third.

It was his first conviction in five federal trials dating from 1957, and brought personal congratulations to the prosecutors from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Appeal? "Are you going to appeal, Jimmy?" asked someone in the courtroom, as U.S. Marshal Harry Mansfield took Hoffa and the others convicted into technical custody.

"Of course, we'll appeal," snapped Hoffa. "What do you think?"

Hoffa faces up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines if the convictions, on two charges, stand up. Two businessmen were acquitted along with him on the third charge.

He posted $75,000 bond pending appeal, and said his lawyers would file a motion for a new trial within five days. The defense lost a bid to gain 30 days in which to seek the new trial.

Accused All six were accused of trying to bribe and corrupt the Nashville jury, from which three jurors or prospective jurors were dismissed after reports someone tried to contact them.

Others convicted were Ewing King, former president of the Nashville Teamsters Union; Larry Campbell, Detroit Teamsters business agent, and his uncle, Thomas E. Parks, a Nashville handyman.

Each of them convicted on only one count faces a maximum of five years in prison and $5,000 in fines.

Acquitted were Nicholas Tweel of Huntington, W.Va., and Allen Dorfman of Chicago. The jury, which deliberated a total of 5 hours and 40 minutes, received the case after six long weeks of complicated testimony at 7:25 p.m. Tuesday. The verdict was read at 2 p.m., only 20 minutes after the end of the lunch recess.

Filing into the courtroom, the four women and eight men on the jury lined up solemnly before the bench. "Ladies and gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?" asked U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson.

Verdict "Yes, your honor," replied Bullen, a retired sales executive, before a hushed courtroom tightly packed at least to its 100-spectator capacity. Then, he read it.

The jury convicted Hoffa, Parks and Campbell on a charge that Hoffa aided the other two in offering a $10,000 bribe to the son of Gratia Fields, one of the jurors dismissed from the Nashville trial. Fields, Parks and Campbell are Negroes.

The jury convicted Hoffa and King of a charge that Hoffa aided King in offering a promotion in the state highway patrol to state trooper James Paschal of Woodbury, Tenn., whose wife also was dismissed as a 1962 juror.

The jury acquitted Hoffa, Tweel and Dorfman on a charge that Hoffa helped Tweel and Dorfman in relaying a jury list to a Nashville bartender, with instructions to try to contact the jurors.

Walter Sheridan, Kennedy's special consultant who has been assigned to the Hoffa case for more than two years, raced from the courtroom while the verdict still was being read, shouting, "Guilty, two counts."

Running to a telephone, he called Kennedy in Washington and reported that Kennedy's first reaction was, "nice work."

Congratulations Later, Kennedy told Washington newsmen. "I want to congratulate Mr. Hooker, Mr. Sheridan and Mr. Neal for their handling of the prosecution."

The chief prosecutor in the case was James Neal of Washington, and he was aided by special prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville. Sheridan is not a lawyer.

"Justice has been done," said Neal. "It is never a joyous occasion to convict someone." Hooker said he felt the verdict was "warranted by the evidence, and we feel the record is free of error."

The trial, which grew out of indictments returned in Nashville last May, began Jan. 20. The jury was picked after a week, and testimony started Jan. 27.

The highlight of the government's three-week case was the appearance of Edward G. Partin, a Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters official who became the principal government witness.

In six days in the witness chair he gave testimony linking Hoffa with alleged efforts to tamper with the 1962 jury. He was the only witness to do so.

Admitted Partin admitted he was under indictment for embezzling union funds, and said he once served a reformatory term for burglary.

But he said he gained information for his testimony in Nashville during the 1962 trial, where he said he enjoyed Hoffa's confidence — while making almost daily reports to Sheridan.

He said Hoffa once told him he would give "$15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury," once boasted he had the Negro juror (Fields) "in my hip pocket," and told him a "hung jury is as good as acquittal."

UNIONIST FACES MORE CHARGES

... But He's Long Way From Jail

Washington (AP) — James R. Hoffa, hard-muscled and toughminded boss of the world's biggest labor union, who was convicted Wednesday of trying to fix a jury, won't have much rest between rounds in his seemingly endless bout with the federal government.

But he is still a long way from jail.

Hard on the heels of the jury tampering trial in Chattanooga, Tenn., Hoffa faces prosecution in Chicago on charges of fraudulently misusing $20 million in pension funds of his independent Teamsters Union.

Tough as he is, the pressures of his long battle to stay out of jail and maintain iron-fisted control of his 1.7 million member union are beginning to show on Hoffa.

Nearly Fought At Chattanooga, he nearly got into a fight with a federal marshal he accused of spying on his hotel headquarters. At another point, he was reprimanded by the judge for shouting in the hall outside the courtroom.

Although Hoffa alternately uses belligerence and charm to get what he wants, his outbursts appear to stem from more strain than strategy. He usually picks his spots, for an effect.

In the six years since Hoffa became president of the big Teamsters Union he has been under almost constant fire from Senate investigators, the Justice Department and even the president of the United States.

She's In Driver's Seat

... LADY BUS DRIVER 'AS GOOD AS US MEN'

By DEAN TERRILL

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Johnson — Here's one gal the huskies don't push to the back of the bus.

Mrs. Mervin Schneider is as much a driver as any of the six male helmets of Johnson School's "great golden fleet." Thirty-six kids — one more giggle would be over capacity — know Elzada as the lady at the end of the lane.

"A pickup had been my heaviest driving before, but I started last year when one of the men quit," smiled the housewife. "Besides my regular 50 miles a day, I take my turn right with the men for basketball games and other school events."

Four school-age Schneiders take up the time between morning and evening runs, and there are letters to write, son Galen in the Air Force. Fortunately, her southwest route can stand up to most Nemaha County weather.

Stuck Three Times

"But there was one morning this year I got stuck three times," she remarked. "Usually one of the boys walks to a farm for help, so it isn't too bad."

Mechanical work she leaves to Louie Stollenberg, fellow driver who maintains the seven regular buses and two spares. There have been no complaints about having a woman driver, he noted, "because she's as good as any of us men."

Any complaints then from her plumber-lumberman husband or other family members?

"They don't care if I drive," she laughed, "just so I drive home once in awhile with a paycheck."

U.S. Rejects Castro's Offer To Turn On Water At Gitmo

Washington (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro offered Wednesday to restore water service to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo.

The United States gave him a quick turn-down.

"Cuba considers the incident of the water at Guantanamo Bay closed and is ready to supply the base with water once again," Castro told foreign newsmen at a Moroccan Embassy reception in Havana.

"It is up to the Americans to use that water or not," he said.

State Department officials, informed of Castro's remarks, said the offer would not be accepted. Pierre Salinger, White House Press Secretary, promptly added:

"We have already made it clear that Guantanamo is being made self sufficient."

Castro thus seemed to have lost any chance of regaining the $168,000 in annual income — all in badly needed U.S. dollars — he lost when he turned off the base's water supply Feb. 6.

He acted then in retaliation for the arrest of 38 Cuban fishermen in four trawlers caught in American waters off Florida. Twenty-nine of them were tried in Florida courts and allowed to return to Cuba after their four captivities.

Wants Water Meet

United Nations (AP) — Israel's Deputy Prime Minister Abba Eban called for a world conference of water experts to deal with the problem of dwindling water supplies for a growing global population.

Lincoln: Mostly fair and a little warmer Thursday. High 40 to 45.

ains paid fines for poaching.

Since then the United States has been hauling in water in tanker ships, has taken steps to conserve supplies at the base and has started drafting plans for a desalinization plant that will provide all the water Guantanamo needs.

Defense Department officials give this favorable report on the water situation there now:

"In storage tanks, some 17 million gallons, more than 1 million gallons greater than was in storage when the water was shut off.

—Consumption, down to about 1.4 million gallons daily, some 800,000 less than before restrictions were imposed. Swimming pools are closed, dungearees are worn rather than whites, only bucket washing of cars is permitted, but shrubs can be watered, preferably with waste or salvaged water.

—New supply, military sea transport service tankers, the Suamico and the Tallulah, are arriving every third day with about 4.3 million gallons of water.

Gov. Morrison Officially In Race For 3rd Term

By BETTY PERSON

Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison officially became a candidate for a third term as Nebraska's chief executive Wednesday afternoon when he formally accepted a petition filed in his behalf earlier in the day.

Twenty-five Lancaster County residents filed the petition to place Morrison's name on the Democratic ballot for the May primary election and paid the $180 filing fee.

In a brief statement made when he accepted the petition, Morrison said that the state "faces some serious economic, educational and cultural problems."

"The people in Nebraska generally know what the approach of this administration has been to those problems in the past, and what our attitude is to approaching them—in a spirit of cooperation and operating on a base of absolute fiscal integrity and responsibility."

To Announce Programs He added that in the near future he will "announce programs with reference to attacking these problems with which we are confronted."

"Both in the primary and general elections, the people will have an opportunity to judge the type of administration they have had since January, 1961, together with a frank discussion of approaches to problems we now face for their evaluation and determination."

The governor had announced Nov. 1 at the Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Dinner at Omaha he would seek a third term if petitions were filed to place his name on the ballot.

Two other persons have filed thus far for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination: Tony Mangiameli of Omaha and Charles A. Bates of Lincoln.

Four candidates have filed for the GOP gubernatorial nomination: Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington, Leo N. Bartunek of Lincoln, Roland L. Ehlers of Omaha, and Albert E. Hahn of Grand Island.

Road Surfaces Back To Normal

Road surfaces across the state were reported back to normal Wednesday evening except for occasional spots of ice in northeast Nebraska.

John McMeekin said clear skies and warmer temperatures had cleared the roads.

—U.N. ACTS ON CYPRUS— Council OK's Peace Force

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council unanimously authorized Secretary-General U Thant Wednesday to send a peace force and mediator to Cyprus for three months.

Thant sent formal requests immediately to five countries to supply troops.

He moved swiftly also for agreement on a mediator. He called in delegates of Cyprus, Britain, Turkey and Greece for separate conferences on this and other aspects of the Cyprus problem.

10,000 Men

The requests for troops went to Canada, Sweden, Finland, Ireland and Brazil. A spokesman for Thant said that use of British troops — now on Cyprus enforcing a shaky cease-fire — was also contemplated. The goal is a 10,000-man force.

The spokesman said replies to the request were being awaited.

New violence flared on Cyprus between Turkish and Greek Cypriots before the council acted. Two Turkish and one Greek Cypriot were wounded before British forces restored order. A Turkish Cypriot leader expressed hope the force would be dispatched as quickly as possible.

By approving a compromise resolution the council hoped to end the threat of war in the Mediterranean raised by clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots on the island republic. Greece and Turkey, partners in NATO, took opposite sides.

Car-Train Crash

Kills York Man

York—A father of seven was killed instantly Wednesday night in a collision of his car and a Burlington Railroad freight train one mile west of York.

The victim was Herbert Ackerman, 56, of York.

York County Sheriff Lewis Ekart said Ackerman was alone in his car.

The accident occurred at a county road crossing one-half mile south of U.S. 34.

Authorities said the tracks of Ackerman's car indicated he may have seen the freight, misjudged its speed, and then swerved at the last minute in an attempt to avoid it. The train speed was about 45 miles per hour.

Ackerman was thrown from the car.

Terry's Wife To Seek

Demo Lt. Governor Nod

Mrs. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff will file for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

In announcing her intentions, Mrs. Carpenter pointed out that she will not be directed by her husband if she is elected. And she took a crack at Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

"While my husband, Sen. Terry Carpenter, has been active in Nebraska politics for many years, he will not influence or direct me in any official actions, if elected," Mrs. Carpenter said in a prepared statement.

"This he knows."

He's A Republican

Carpenter, a Republican, is a candidate for re-election to the non-partisan Unicameral.

The lieutenant governor presides over the Legislature, and is first in line to succeed the governor.

Mrs. Carpenter said her reasons for filing are "to make the office of lieutenant governor important as it should be, not unnecessary; to prove that women are cap-for taking "a major step toward peace." The United States played a leading part in diplomatic efforts to avoid a clash that might disrupt the North Atlantic Alliance.

Tension remained high in Athens, where more anti-American demonstrations flared and the U.S. Embassy announced cancellation of a visit to the Greek capital by ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet. Greece requested the cancellation.

Spyros Kyprianou, foreign minister of Cyprus, told a reporter the resolution "is a victory for the people of Cyprus," because it protects his country "from any aggression from the outside." Turkish Ambassador Turgut Menemencioglu said, "I feel very happy. I think we have a resolution that has all the positive elements necessary for a peaceful, agreed settlement."

Reservations Both the Soviet Union and France expressed reservations over the compromise resolution submitted to Norway, Brazil, Morocco, the Ivory Coast and Bolivia, but in the end voted for it.

SHOOTING REPORTED ON CYPRUS

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots broke out in two villages Wednesday.

The shooting began before the U.N. Security Council voted to send a peace force and a mediator to this Mediterranean island.

One Greek Cypriot police constable and one Turkish Cypriot were reported wounded in the outbreak at the village of Kazaphani, near the north coast harbor of Kyrenia.

A communique from the Greek Cypriot government said two mobile police patrols went to the village after hearing reports that armed Turks had been seen in the area.

They were met with gun and rifle fire which seriously wounded a policeman, the Greeks said.

A Turkish Cypriot spokesman, confirming there had been a clash, said one Turk participant was wounded.

A separate report reached Nicosia of a second clash at the village of Temblois, west of Kyrenia. There was no word of casualties there.

able, qualified and interested in politics; to see that this office is not used as a haven for professional lobbyists, back-door opportunists and lawyers looking for a fast buck."

Mrs. Carpenter noted that she is opposed to a broadened tax base.

"I will use this office to defeat an income tax just as the previous lieutenant governor (Burney) used it to attempt its passage," she said.

Lost by 3 Votes

"Remember the income tax was defeated by only three votes. The lieutenant governor has the deciding vote in event of a tie on the floor. As the lieutenant governor, I could be the difference between additional deductions in your pay check or not."

The only previous filing for the nomination has come from Edward A. Dosek of Lincoln.

Mrs. Carpenter ran fifth out of 34 candidates for delegate-at-large to the 1960 Democratic national convention. Dosek ran sixth.

Cop Tells Of Shooting As Ruby Trial Starts

Dallas (AP)—Jack Ruby was pictured by a policeman Wednesday as shooting Lee Harvey Oswald, trying vainly to send a second bullet into his body, and finally crying, "I hope the S.O.B. dies."

The testimony from Dallas police officer J. R. Leavelle climaxed a courtroom day that began when the 52-year-old Ruby pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the Nov. 21 slaying of Oswald, President Kennedy's accused assassin. The trial resumes Thursday.

The defense contends Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip tease joint, was in a mental blackout when he killed Oswald and didn't know what he was doing.

Close Track

Earlier, it was suggested through state testimony that Ruby may have trailed Oswald for at least 20 hours before he shot him. Witnesses indicated Ruby kept close track of police plans to move Oswald from one jail to another. It was during such a transfer that Ruby killed him.

Leavelle was the man in the tansuit and light, Texas-style hat whom countless Americans saw beside Oswald as he fell mortally wounded while newspaper photographers and television cameras recorded the dramatic scene.

Leavelle's left wrist was handcuffed to Oswald's right wrist as he was being taken from the basement of Dallas police headquarters two days after the presidential assassination.

Mumbled

The husky, dark-haired policeman testified Ruby took two quick steps from a crowd of onlookers. He mumbled some words the officer did not catch and put a single fatal bullet into Oswald's abdomen.

Immediately, other police officers overwhelmed Ruby and bore him to the floor. Leavelle said one of them clapped a hand over Ruby's revolver, preventing it from being fired again.

"What are the facts as to whether he still was trying to pull the trigger?" the state's attorney asked.

Contracting

"The right hand was still contracting on the gun as though he was trying to fire another shot," the police officer replied.

The defense has implied that Ruby was in some sort of muscular spasms when he pulled the trigger.

Leavelle said he heard Ruby's remark about hoping Oswald would die about a minute later while the policeman was ministering to the dying shooting victim.

The trial began Feb. 17. Wednesday's testimony was the first.

Outside

Two state witnesses placed Ruby outside the Dallas County Jail when a crowd gathered in mid-afternoon of Nov. 23 in anticipation of Oswald's transfer there from police headquarters. The actual transfer, however, did not take place until the next day and at its outset Ruby put a single fatal bullet into Oswald's abdomen.

"Was that an ugly crowd, a murmuring crowd, a sinister crowd?" chief defense attorney Melvin Belli asked one of the witnesses, Sgt. D. V. Harkness, on cross-examination.

"No, sir, it was an orderly crowd," replied the police officer, who took the stand in uniform as the trial's eighth witness.

"Did Ruby appear any different than the others?" Belli asked.

"No, sir," Harkness said.

In Vicinity

Earlier, another witness Wes Wise, a newsman for KRLD radio and television in Dallas, told of seeing Ruby in the vicinity of the county jail the afternoon after Kennedy's assassination. Wise said he discussed with Ruby the fact that two small western saddles, intended as gifts for the Kennedy children, were left behind in Dallas after the assassination.

"I mentioned taking pictures of them and I saw tears in his eyes," Wise added.

"Did he appear excited?" Alexander said.

"I wouldn't say he was excited," Wise replied. "I would say he was touched."

The defense contends that Ruby suffered a chronic mental condition and that the shock of the presidential assassination sent him into a state of blackout during which he killed Oswald without knowing what he was doing.

A panel of four women and eight men moved into the jury box in a group for the first time as testimony in the trial got under way. It took 14 days to select the jury. The last two members were chosen Tuesday.

On the bench was Judge

N. Y.'s Almost Unnoticed Tugboat Strike Settled

New York (AP)—The almost unnoticed tugboat strike, second longest in New York waterfront history, ended Wednesday in its 33rd day.

Crewmen accepted a 69-cent hourly settlement package and agreed to negotiate for an extra crew on long-haul tugs.

"Call our dispatcher and go back to work," Capt. Joseph O'Hare told cheering members of Local 33, AFL-CIO National Maritime Union after a unanimous contract acceptance vote of 3,000 men.

Unaltered

Almost at the same time the union president spoke, the 30,000-ton 682-foot passenger liner Constitution backed unaided from a Manhattan pier into the Hudson River and swung around for a Mediterranean cruise.

Throughout the strike, big ships docked and cast off without tugs and without serious damage. The master of the liner Queen Elizabeth figured he "lost a dollar's worth of paint" crumpling against a pier in a high wind.

The strike idled 350 tugs, lighters and barges and mainly affected movements of fuels and construction materials in the harbor. A similar 13-day strike in 1946 caused such serious fuel oil shortages that Broadway lights were dimmed.

Not Noticeable

However, the current strike had no noticeable effect in the nation's largest city where big consumers had 90-day stockpiles of fuel. It's most serious blow apparently, was a chain-reaction effect in the coal fields of West Virginia where curtailed shipments piled up.

Crewmen on Feb. 1 rejected the 54-cent settlement package tentatively accepted by their negotiators from the Marine Towing and Transportation Employers Association, representing 65 companies, and walked out even though their union had no strike fund for payments to members.

They won an extra 15 cents an hour by their action. The new three-year contract includes a 19-cent hourly increase in fringe benefits, plus wage boosts in three steps.

Chilean Volcano Subsides

. . . 30,000 BEGIN MOVING BACK HOME

Temuco, Chile (AP)—Villarrica Volcano subsided Wednesday and 30,000 Chileans driven to the hills by the fury of its two-day eruption began moving back to their villages and farms.

Relief officials in this southern Chilean Andes Mountain area said apparently casualties were confined to the village of Conarape, smashed by an avalanche of mud, rock and lava when the 9,325-foot volcano erupted early Monday.

So far, the bodies of two children have been recovered and 22 of the Conarape villagers are missing and believed dead. Everyone else in the area seemed to have been able to get out of the way of the avalanche because the volcano gave advance warning with an underground roar.

The avalanche, 12 feet high and 350 feet wide, swept away the resort hotels, business buildings and most of the houses in the village of 138 persons. The village lay on the southern foot of Villarrica between the volcano and a lake.

Clearing weather after six days of heavy rain permitted relief supplies to be flown into the stricken area 500 miles south of Santiago, the capital. Relief officials also were able to reach Conarape and talk to the villagers.

Only a few shacks still stood on the hillside above the high tide of the avalanche. Everything else was buried in muck or swept into the lake.

"A deep, heavy rumble awakened us," said Raul Reyes, 34. "It grew into a frightful roar. While we ran, we saw a huge dark mass falling on the town, uprooting trees and smashing houses. It looked as if the whole mountain was falling on us."

Mrs. Luzmila Pena was caught up to her waist on the avalanche's edge and her two small children were swept to their deaths just as persons on higher ground reached out to try to help them. The two small bodies are the only ones recovered so far.

A relief official said there had been no reports of casualties outside Conarape and "the final death toll may be considerably lower than we first feared."

Wind, Lightning Whack South

. . . WEATHER CONNECTED MISHAPS CLAIM 11 LIVES

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, windstorms and lightning caused the deaths of 11 persons and injured almost a score in six southern states Wednesday.

Lightning started a house fire in which seven died at Forrest Park, Ark., and set off a blaze in the Tennessee Bank in downtown North Little Rock, causing several thousand dollars damage.

A tornado killed a woman in the Beech Creek community near Magnolia, Ark., injuring six others. Debris blocked roads temporarily in the Magnolia area.

Three persons were killed in Kentucky and the state was soaked by the heaviest rainfall in six months. Heavy rain also fell in parts of Arkansas, ending the forest fire hazard there.

100 Leave

Flood waters forced more than 100 persons from their homes in Mississippi. Ten-foot waves pounded the Louisiana coast and strong winds slammed a cargo ship into a wharf at New Orleans, knocking down about 15 fender pilings.

Heavy property damage included the wrecking of equipment at a Tennessee dam power plant.

A twister smashed into Hardin, Ky., injured five persons and demolished several buildings.

Another target of the fierce winds was the Missouri Bootheel town of Senath. A tornado took the roof off a quonset hut used as a school building but 55 children inside escaped injury by lying on the floor. One man was hurt by the Senath storm which damaged several houses, numerous barns and other farm buildings, and downed trees and utility lines.

Demolished

A tornado demolished the main switchyard of the Tennessee Valley Authority power house at Pickwick Dam, a few miles above the Mississippi-Alabama boundary on the Tennessee River.

The storm knocked over three of the four main river crossing transmission towers. The winds damaged buildings in towns near Jackson.

Confab On Malaysian Crisis Founders

. . . OPINIONS ABOUT CEASE-FIRE BIGGEST SNAG

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)—A ministerial conference on the Malaysian crisis is foundered Wednesday and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman announced Malaysia will take its dispute with Indonesia to the United Nations.

The snag in renewed talks among Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia was differences of opinion about the cease-fire arranged by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. A statement issued by the Malaysians appeared to be a warning that they consider the truce is off.

ness of President Sukarno's of its territorial integrity and cease-fire order and the failure of the Indonesian government to give an undertaking at this meeting that the cease-fire would be truly effective in the sense that there would be no further incursions and that the Indonesian forces would confine their activities to within their territories only, the Malaysian government has no alternative but to reconsider its position and to take such measures as are necessary for the defense for the preservation of law and order."

That could mean a renewal of armed action.

Philippine Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez and Foreign Minister Subandrio of Indonesia said the door remains open for a settlement. Lopez described the situation as a recess. Subandrio said he would attend still another conference if the atmosphere was right. But Razak said it was a breakoff and he does not know what will happen now.

TV Broadcast

The announcement by Razak's chief, Prime Minister Rahman, that Malaysia will take the issue to the United Nations was made in a television broadcast from Kuala Lumpur, the capital of that young anti-Communist federation of former British colonies. He presumably referred to the Security Council. The General Assembly is not in session.

Malaysia demanded that withdrawal of 400 or so pro-Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo be made the first order of business.

Rejected

Indonesia rejected this demand. President Sukarno's delegation insisted that such a withdrawal be accompanied by a simultaneous settlement of political issues, such as its demand for a plebiscite to determine whether the people in the Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak really want to be part of Malaysia.

Indonesia and the Philippines, which is pressing an old claim to Sabah, were never satisfied with the affirmative finding of a U.N. team headed by Laurence V. Michelmore of the United States which surveyed public opinion in those states last summer.

The three-nation conference, the second here within a month, broke up abruptly after two negotiating sessions that lasted a total of less than four hours. Out of the discussion came only one agreement:

A supervisory team from Thailand — mediating in the dispute — will head to Borneo as soon as possible to check on the truce, which Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak of Malaysia charged the Indonesians "have violated every day."

Ineffective

"They (the Indonesians) call it a cease-fire — we consider the cease-fire ineffective," Razak told newsmen.

A statement by his delegation said Malaysia "cannot negotiate at gunpoint." It summed up the situation thus:

"In view of the ineffective-

Holum Favors Equalizing Mid-State Interest Rate

Washington (AP)—Three days of congressional hearings on the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation project were completed Wednesday with proponents and opponents testifying briefly before a Senate Interior Subcommittee.

Much of the testimony was similar to that given during the last two days before a House Interior Subcommittee.

The Senate Committee questioned Kenneth Holum, assistant Secretary of the Interior, about a proposed one-half percent interest rate cut recommended in a revised Missouri Basin project report the Interior Department submitted last December.

This report, which also proposes a 5% increase in eastern division power rates, is designed to put the basin projects on a sound financial basis.

It recommended legislation that would authorize reduction from 3 to 2 1/2% of interest rates after July 1, 1964, on unpaid balances of investment in Army engineer project units in the basin started prior to that date.

Holum told the committee this can be accomplished by amending the Mid-State project authorization bill. He added the interest on Army engineer projects in other basins was 2 1/2% or less and it should be equalized.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., declared the one-half percent would be a "windfall."

Holum said that so far as other Army engineer projects are concerned the Missouri Basin rates are out of line.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., who supported the Mid-State project, said the issue of whether area redevelopment should be a benefit factor in the project was a question for the committee to determine but he urged the project not be delayed.

Others appearing briefly for the project included Walter P. Lauritsen, attorney for the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District, and Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb.

Charles W. Eubank, Buffalo County, and Thomas W. Tye, attorney for Mid-State Irrigators, Inc., testified briefly in opposition.

Eubank said cost of the project to farmers would be too high. He said the irrigation is not now needed as farmers have their own systems.

'Pooky's' Marriage To Zenith Heir No Surprise For Father

Omaha (AP)—The marriage of Stormy and Pooky was no surprise to Alfred C. Baker. "They are real sweethearts," he says.

Eugene (Stormy) McDonald, 22, heir to the Zenith Radio fortune, and Virginia (Pooky) Baker, 20, of Omaha, were married in Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday.

McDonald, whose estimated wealth is $30 million, disclosed the marriage in Phoenix, Ariz.

McDonald attended the University of Omaha in 1960 and 1961 and met Miss Baker, a student at Brownell Hall, an Omaha girls' school.

"They've been sweethearts off and on ever since," her father, Alfred Baker, said Wednesday. "Like all lovers, they have had little spats."

"Pooky drives a motorcycle or a car and she was city diving champion. These are things that appeal to Stormy. Now he is teaching her to fly."

"Stormy has been one of the family," Baker observed. "When he comes to our house if he feels like frying a steak, he does. Or he plays the organ."

Baker said Stormy came to him two months ago to talk about marriage.

"Our telephone bill has been running $160 a month. Mrs. Baker attended the wedding. I was undergoing treatment at Mayo Clinic at the time," said Baker.

Also at the wedding was an old friend of McDonald's, actor Peter Fonda, Fonda, son of actor Henry Fonda, also attended the University of Omaha.

Baker said his daughter attended Mills College in California, then went to the art center in Los Angeles. "Stormy was always living out there," Baker added. Miss Baker has traveled extensively including several trips to Europe.

Baker, 68, is manager of the Producers Live Stock Marketing Association which sells cattle, hogs and sheep for farmers on the Omaha and St. Joseph, Mo., markets. He came to Omaha from Chicago in 1919. He was a partner in Baker, Heyne and Co., a cattle sales firm, there.

Baker plans to retire shortly and he and Mrs. Baker, 48, will move to San Francisco. They have three other daughters: Mrs. David Hamilton, Santa Clara, Calif., wife of an engineer; Mrs. William Stevens, Miami, whose husband is with the FBI, and Mrs. Barry Curtis, Mayport, Fla., who is married to a Navy officer.

Said Baker, "We think the marriage is terrific. Stormy is a very nice boy."

"All that money—that's the only drawback."

Gugas Orders Shake Up In Police Force

Omaha (AP)—Public Safety Director Chris Gugas announced Wednesday that Capt. Ted Janing and Sgt. Louis Kostka will be transferred from their present Police Department assignments.

Janing has been chief of the internal security division of the Police Department and Kostka has been head of the vice squad which formerly was part of Janing's assignment.

The safety director also asked that a lieutenant be placed in charge of the vice squad and asked Chief C. Harold Ostler to transfer the remaining members of the vice squad over a period of time so that the effectiveness of the squad will not be diminished while the transfers are in progress.

Gugas said that in rotating members of the vice squad the object is "to give other officers the experience necessary in vice squad work."

He also called for semi-monthly meetings with the vice squad and the city prosecutor's staff which he hopes will reduce the friction that has been apparent recently.

Gugas said his recommendations follow a detailed appraisal of the events of recent months and "I feel that these transfers are for the good of the organization."

Cruiser Involved In 2-Car Crash; Officer Injured

An accident involving a police cruiser at 40th and Vine Wednesday night injured policeman George DeLisle, 25, of 2401 Washington. He was treated and released from Lincoln General Hospital.

Traffic Lt. Bob Myers said the cruiser, driven by Officer Bart Wilson, 30, of 2117 Euclid, was eastbound on Vine on a call. The other car, driven by Mrs. Norma Lee Sronce, 22, of 8142 Beechwood Drive, was going north on 40th, Myers said.

Myers said the cruiser was traveling about 10 miles per hour with its red light on as it crossed the intersection. Mrs. Sronce told officers she stopped for the automatic signal light and had just started through the intersection when she saw the police car, but was unable to stop.

Mrs. Sronce and her daughter, 21, were not injured.

Truman: 'Demos To Beat Hell Out of GOP Runner'

New York (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says he doesn't care who the Republicans nominate for president. "We'll beat the hell out of them anyway."

In an interview taped for the Steve Allen television show, Truman said President Johnson will be the Democratic candidate. Johnson has not declared himself.

Truman, 80, said he would be glad to help in Johnson's campaign, if the President wants him to.

News Executive George Grimes Dies At Age 69

Omaha (AP)—George Grimes, 69, editor and publisher of the Oxnard, Calif., Press Courier, died Wednesday of cancer.

Mr. Grimes began his newspaper career in Lincoln, working his way through the University of Nebraska as a reporter for The Lincoln Star. He moved to Omaha in 1919 after World War I in which he was a commissioned officer and served with a French tank corps.

He was later at Fremont and Scottsbluff, returning to Omaha in 1924 as a staff member of the Omaha World Herald. He became associate editor of the World Herald in 1934 and five years later became managing editor.

Mr. Grimes left the World Herald in 1943 to join the Wall Street Journal staff and two years later he and two partners bought the Oxnard paper.

He was married to the former Eva Irene Miller of Fremont. She was the first woman editor of the Daily Nebraska, NU student newspaper, of which Mr. Grimes was a managing editor.

He was past president of the NU Alumni Association.

Quitters Discovering It Was Easier Than They Thought

By BOB HESSE, Star Staff Writer

Many new non-smokers attending the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking program Wednesday night indicated that they were finding it easier to quit smoking than they thought.

Many others said they expected a peak in the withdrawal period and were waiting for the moment they just had to have a cigarette. E. J. Folkenberg, moderator, said most of the persons had already gone through this period without noticing it.

A man who said he had been smoking for 35 years, and trying to stop for the last 15, told the audience that he hasn't had a cigarette since Sunday. He said he feels he has stopped completely.

During Commercial A local television announcer, who also hasn't smoked since Sunday, said he faced one problem — he had to smoke during a commercial.

Folkenberg told the group it should set definite time patterns using the phrase, "I choose not to smoke, for a day," lengthening the time to a week, then to weeks and months.

He listed six motives why the audience wanted to quit smoking. He said fear of smoking's bad effects was only a temporary motive. Folkenberg said the mind can adjust and adapt to new situations caused by fear.

Reasons

Folkenberg went on to list better health, love, example to others, and the Tenth Commandment as motivations to break the habit.

Thursday night will be the last session of the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking.

The program is sponsored by the Union College health department and the Seventh-day Adventist Churches in cooperation with the Lincoln unit of the American Cancer Society.

Doane Professor Given Fulbright; To Study In India

Crete — Dr. Kenneth R. Rossman, history professor at Doane College, has been announced as the recipient of a Fulbright scholarship for study at the University of Mysore, Mysore, India.

Under the terms of this scholarship he will participate in the summer institute in Indian civilization. The purpose of this institute is to give the participants a brief but intensive survey of Indian history, institutions and culture and a significant contact with non-western civilization to enrich their teaching in the United States.

Dr. Rossman takes an active interest in student affairs at Doane and has for many years served as sponsor for the Delta Kappa Pi social fraternity as well as Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history society and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman boys' honorary scholarship society.

Honor Set For Dr. Margolin, Diabetes Treatment Pioneer

Omaha (AP)—Dual honors are planned Monday for Dr. Morris Margolin, an unusual man.

Monday afternoon Dr. Margolin will attend the first Morris Margolin lecture at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine. The lecture series has been established by the Nebraska Diabetes Association in his honor.

Monday evening the association will honor him at a dinner as a pioneer in the treatment of diabetes with insulin and as one of the founders of the association.

Dr. Margolin's colleagues say his achievements need no qualifications. Yet since 1946 he has been completely blind.

Dr. Margolin came to this country from Russia as a boy of 11. His father, elderly at the time, peddled vegetables and supported the family with other odd jobs, first in Sioux City and then in Omaha.

In 1924 Dr. Margolin was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine only a short time after the miracle of insulin was demonstrated. The timing stimulated his interest and it became a specialty.

He joined the faculty of the College of Medicine and established and operated its diabetes clinic. He still gives the diabetes lectures to junior students and holds the rank of senior consultant in medicine at the college.

In the 1940s he diagnosed a "mild" case of diabetes in himself.

In 1945 he lost the sight of his right eye to a blood clot. A year later a clot in the left eye left him totally blind.

He expected that although he intended to continue his practice and hope patients would continue to come to him, he would have to discontinue his affiliation with the medical college.

At the insistence of Dr. C. W. M. Poynter, then dean of the college, he continued to teach. He started with an assistant, but after a month the assistant left, saying "you don't need me."

Dr. Margolin now shares an office with his brother and his nurse drives him to work and to the hospital. He keeps abreast of medical developments by subscribing to a service that supplies tape-recorded extracts of professional papers and meetings.

With several other doctors he founded the Nebraska Diabetes Association in 1944 and served as its first secretary. In 1948 he became president and now is executive director of the association.

Two of his sons are doctors, a third, formerly connected with the Associated Press in Omaha and Denver, is business editor of the Rocky Mountain News in Denver.

The weather over the area will be mostly fair and warmer Thursday with decreasing cloudiness in west Iowa and little temperature change. Thursday night once again there will be increasing cloudiness over western Nebraska spreading eastward during the night and some scattered snows are likely to develop late at night in western Nebraska. However warmer temperatures are forecast over the area. For Friday considerable cloudiness is forecast with some scattered precipitation spreading in the afternoon into extreme east Nebraska but likely in the form of rain or rain and wet snow mixed. This will be widely scattered and very light.

High pressure is beginning to build in central Texas and will develop into a high center over Arkansas by Thursday evening. A low just north of the state of Washington with a front in the southwest will be moving east to south-east and by evening this low will be in the north and west to 50 to 55 in the south. Normal lows are 28 in the north and west to lower 30s in the south. Precipitation will average .10 to .20 of an inch, occurring as occasional rain or snow mostly about Saturday.

KANSAS: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, will average near seasonal normal. Cold at the beginning of the period with a warming trend Friday and colder again over the weekend. Normal highs are 40s in the north and west to 50 to 55 in the south. Normal lows are 28 in the north and west to lower 30s in the south. Precipitation will average .10 to .20 of an inch, occurring as occasional rain or snow mostly about Saturday.

Cozad Monroe Plant Reducing Operation, Employee Force

Cozad (AP)—Monroe Auto Equipment Co. is reducing its shock absorber operation here, the plant manager reported Wednesday.

Manager LeVerne Fisk said the jobs of between 250 to 300 persons will be terminated Friday. The plant has employed 751 hourly workers, he said.

Fisk said two factors are involved:

— Monroe production of shock absorbers has exceeded sales.

— The firm has sought to maintain a core of regular employees at Cozad, but has had difficulty doing so and has had a major turnover problem.

The future of the plant here depends on sales, Fisk said. The firm is the largest manufacturer of replacement shock absorbers but only a small portion of its production goes into new cars. The Michigan-based firm has another shock absorber plant in Hartwell, Ga.

Fisk said that at Cozad, Monroe is continually breaking in new employees. Some, he said, are looking for work in the winter when hay mills are shut down. Others have had farm jobs.

The 450 to 500 employees who will be kept on "will be a hard core of 52-week-a-year workers," Fisk said.

The plant has been working a 40-hour week but to meet employee requests for more income, Fisk said, it will go on a schedule of nine hour days, five days a week.

Prior to the planned cut Monroe has had a weekly payroll of $42,000, the plant manager said.

Nebraska Research Pays Off

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

More than just a $700,000 pilot plant at Central City is involved with the latest development in the state's agricultural research program. American Maize-Products Co. of New York will build the Central City plant to produce from high amylose corn an edible, soluble packaging film for food-stuffs, drugs, etc. Thus, American Maize will be lending its productive and distribution genius to the development efforts of the state of Nebraska.

The film is the outgrowth of research done for Nebraska by Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, Mo. The Nebraska program is carried on under terms of a plan of action provided by the State Legislature. The American Maize development, of course, is an important step in and of itself. It will build only a pilot plant which means that it has not yet decided to incorporate the film permanently into its operations. It wants to see if the film can be produced and do the job under actual commercial circumstances the same as in the laboratory at Kansas City.

But $700,000 is a pretty good expression of confidence and American Maize officials were warm in their praise of this specific program as well as Nebraska's efforts in general along the lines of research into new uses for agricultural products. There is justification for hoping that this film processing and use will prove to be a real asset for Nebraska and corn growers of the country.

For what it is this very day, the tie between Nebraska and American Maize is a credit to the state's pioneering research efforts, the handling of this program by State Agricultural Director Pearle Finigan and confidence in and support of the program by Gov. Frank B. Morrison.

For Governor Morrison and Director Finigan, the going has not always been smooth and this is the other half of the American Maize story. Finigan was criticized in some quarters when he ended state support of certain research programs being carried out by the University of Nebraska. In general, he was accused of poor planning and administration and bad judgment. Signing of American Maize to a contract for production of a Nebraska research developed film does not give everyone and everything connected with the state's research program a green light or a clean bill of health. As we said, the story on the high amylose film is not yet completed nor does it represent the end of all research.

But the American Maize development puts the spotlight on the stand that Finigan has taken and supports that stand. Finigan has had nothing against the research done by the university but he had only so much money to work with. It was his opinion that the law under which research appropriations were made and the intent of the legislation dictated that first priority was to go into new uses for agricultural products, not new products themselves or the refinement of existing products. Thus, he believed it was not his primary responsibility to develop new strains or better strains of products that could be grown by Nebraska farmers. This may well be a worthy objective but it was not the purpose of the agricultural research program.

Those who want to read the law and see it another way are free to do so but that law specifically states that the appropriation is for new uses of agricultural products and it is our conviction that Finigan was absolutely right. What the university was doing was not research into new uses and if a cut in the program was essential because of a shortage of funds, then Finigan was right in cutting the university.

The contract with American Maize demonstrates the wisdom of that approach: it vindicates the confidence of many people in a program that has called for ingenuity and sacrifice. When all the criticism of Finigan has been sifted down, it amounts to very little. The director is not perfect and others may not have done all things the way Finigan did, but he has been conscientious and successful.

It is well for citizens to remember, too, that the research program has not been any giant undertaking nor has there been any precedent for it. The state's approach has been conservative and we have been and still are the only state with such a program. Some have viewed this as a point of bad reflection on Nebraska but we believe it is all the more reason for the state to be proud of itself. The fact that we are alone in something doesn't at all make us wrong. If it did, a lot of things in the state would not be the way they are today.

It is hoped that with the development at Central City, the state's research program can gain new incentive for the future welfare of Nebraska. It is hoped that future attacks against the program, if there are any, will have greater justification than has been the case to date.

Bold New Step For State

Battle Is Joined

Now that the two day Nebraska Conference on Religion and Race is over and has made its mark, there is a sense of profound change.

The battle for justice to racial minorities certainly has been joined. The quest for civil rights has emerged with strong, unified leadership, committed to positive acts.

Observers were impressed by the unflinching unity of all religious faiths which in their own words faced the problem with "earnestness and urgency" in a spirit of "confession and repentance."

Nebraska is largely a state given to good will. Such prejudice as it practices, and it does practice it, is by habit more than by conviction. There are real barriers here and they will not fall of their own weight. Nor will they fall in an instant. But the conference, one must believe, supplied the force and the leadership.

One respects the clergy for its positive position. And one cannot discount the power that springs from a unity that ignores varying faiths.

American principles are in reality ideals. They are not always practiced. They are not always popular. But all efforts that draw nearer to the ideal are an expression of deepest patriotism and highest citizenship. It is quite fitting that the conference dedicated itself to "making the American dream come true."

Nebraska has needed this decisive step and now must be fairly judged by its reaction. It is not pertinent any longer to press the battle somewhere else. The question now is whether we will set our own house in order. That's where the question belongs.

New Wilderness Bill

A new version of a national wilderness bill has appeared in Congress in an atmosphere more conducive to passage than formerly.

The bill, as its predecessors, would return some presently utilized land to its primitive state, and bar for an indefinite period large tracts which still remain untouched.

Conservationists have emphasized the sentimental approach of preserving for future generations enough of the domain as it was at the beginning of this nation, giving Americans, always, their contact with the past. That is a worthy argument. But it does not diminish practical factors which advise against detriment to areas not presently needed either to accommodate people or the national economy. Small point now in opening new mineral sources whose working is both destructive and economically complicating. Past experience has shown the inadvisability of opening too much agricultural land. It has helped produce a farm problem which is costing billions without finding relief.

The new bill covers the ground adequately with the possible exception of one provision. This would allow a grace period of 10 years for mineral prospecting. This is apt to pitch off super activity in opening claims and defeat much of the purpose of the law.

It would seem a better provision to close off all the proposed area with a provision that future opening here or there be based on administrative or executive order upon evidence of serving the national interest. It is a question of having a wilderness or not having one. If portions of the wilderness later are needed for the national economy the yardstick of national need should apply.

Sounds Almost Too Good

With some cynicism born of past apathy and distortion, it can be said that the latest development in regard to the housing situation in Lincoln is almost too good to be true. We have arrived at the point where private and public interests in Lincoln appear to be agreed that a need exists for very low income housing and agreed on a plan of action.

In brief, the Lincoln Home Builders Association intends to provide housing to rent for $50 to $60 a month and up. The Lincoln Housing Authority, a public body now operating Huskerville housing at the Lincoln Air Force Base, is considering plans for providing housing in the $50-a-month-and-lower bracket. Current recommendations of an authority committee, whose membership happens to include a builder who is also a member of the Home Builders Association, calls for a joint housing development.

Now, it is very true that neither the association nor the authority is talking about many houses. The project would start small and there are still roadblocks in its way but the agreements that apparently have been reached in principle and objective are little short of amazing. This is the kind of public and private cooperation one dreams about but seldom finds.

For a change, we do not have private interests at odds with a public agency. We have not heard a word of debate over the grossly exaggerated question of public versus private enterprise. Lincoln appears at this time to be on the verge of embarking upon a program of untold benefit for the future of the city. To date, the progress made on the housing problem here is a real credit to private and public groups and individuals involved.

Rambler Mixed Up In Politics

WASHINGTON—George Romney, the handsome governor of Michigan, and his Ramblers are headed for more protests because of the use of corporate funds for political purposes.

Last year a stockholders' suit was filed against American Motors, Romney, and Richard Cross, present board chairman, for using funds to promote Romney's political ambitions.

The suit contends that American Motors public relations executives spent their time working for the election of Romney as a delegate to Michigan's constitutional convention and after that to elect him governor.

The case is now pending and depositions are being taken.

What the stockholders don't know is that right now American Motors is supplying a $1,000 car to Arthur Elliott, Jr., Michigan's Republican state chairman and Romney's campaign manager for governor.

On Feb. 14 Elliott drove a $4,000 Rambler "Ambassador" license tag ZK2447 to a meeting as the official representative of the Republican party.

Again on Feb. 18 Elliott was seen driving this car to a political science class at Michigan State University.

The car is registered in the name of American Motors Corporation.

Under the Corrupt Practices Act, a corporation cannot make a political contribution. Furthermore, a defense contractor cannot make a political contribution. American Motors does defense work. Gov. Romney is still the largest single stockholder in American Motors.

A man who used to employ about a million Americans gave up his earthly work the other day. He was Howard O. Hunter, once head of the WPA, which, during the height of the depression, put hundreds of thousands of people to work.

Hunter took over the WPA in 1939 and continued until 1943 when wartime jobs made it unnecessary. He was one of the last of the New Deal executives who tried to alleviate unemployment. One other who still survives is Aubrey Williams, who was director of the National Youth Administration.

Under both Williams and Hunter for a time was a young man named Johnson who served as regional director in Texas. He is now President of the United States.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Succession Action Is Most Urgent

WASHINGTON—The in-cubable optimism of the American temperament has helped to move mountains and make the desert bloom. But also at times it results in a form of willful blindness so that dangers and defects are conveniently out of sight.

With no vice president the question of presidential succession and what happens on the disability of a president is of paramount importance. Yet from all indications the public attitude is one of yawning apathy of indifference, although the Senate Judiciary Committee is holding extensive hearings and at least 200 succession bills have been advanced.

President Johnson is telling visitors that nothing can be done until after the first of the year when a president and a vice president will be inaugurated. You wouldn't get 10 votes in the House to change the present law which makes Speaker John McCormack the No. 1 successor. At 72 with little or no experience in the executive branch of government, McCormack is said to take any suggestion of the need to change the law as a personal affront.

But between now and the date of the next inauguration in January a cloud of uncertainty casts doubt on the stability and the continuity of executive authority. And this is at a moment when fantastic power has been invested in the president and the president alone. That is the power to respond to a nuclear attack on the United States by pressing the annihilation button.

The proposal put forward by Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okl.) reserves more consideration than it has received. He recommended a bill to create a commission on presidential election and succession to be made up of 12 eminent citizens, six from public life and six from private life. This would dramatize and underscore for the country the urgent need to act lest another calamity present the nation with an insoluble riddle of authority hopelessly tangled.

Monroney and others believe one solution for the dangerous months ahead is to adopt on a temporary basis the proposal of the American Bar Association. This would permit the president to submit to Congress for confirmation by Senate and House a proposed vice-president, who, if confirmed, would serve in that office until the January inauguration.

Then with a duly elected president and vice president in office the commission would put forward a long-range solution requiring an amendment to the constitution to be thoroughly debated in Congress.

The obscurity darkening whole areas of the succession, particularly without a backstopping vice president, is appalling. If a presidential candidate were to die or be incapacitated, say a week or 10 days before the election, no formal machinery exists to choose a substitute. Even more disturbing is the fact that if a president-elect were to die between election day and inauguration the electoral college is not bound to elect the vice president who was chosen with him by the voters. Presumably that ancient contraption made up of nonentities would do that. But they would not be bound to and the pulling and hauling surrounding their choice would keep the country in unhappy suspense.

Division

One who lives this life thoughtfully realizes early or late that a hand mighty and blessed, but firm, directs all his hours. In some mystic way we have free rein, yet we are always steered on a general course "preordained before the world was born."

In part it is like a ship of sail that tacks on one course, then another far different to keep the wind, then another still—yet always trends towards a chosen port for which she never steers directly until the last moment.

I say in part, because the captain of a ship knows where he steers and that each leg has a vector that makes toward the goal; whereas in life each of us is blind against the future. However when we look backward at the wake whence our course has run (if we look with faith and acceptance) we see that it has always made toward a definite purpose for good. Even the darkest disappointments and despair at last reveal themselves as necessities that have led to the summum bonum of one's life.

This knowledge comes slowly, and groping humans that we are, must be relearned often—as voyages on beyond mid-passage. Hence one's favorite Bible passage changes with the years. As a young man I preferred most of all, "Ask and it shall be given you, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened."

I still believe firmly in this passage and its companion, "Have faith in God. Whosoever shall say unto this mountain . . . and shall not doubt in his heart . . . I believe even though I have often been given just the opposite of what I asked—an opposite that has proved better than I could conceive.

However, after years as a man, out of loved passages in this book of the soul that should be our first care in education, play and vocation, a preferred group took shape for me from separate books: "This commandment which I command you this day is not hidden from you, neither is it far off . . . but it is very high unto you that you may do it . . ."

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul . . . This is the great and first commandment and the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself . . ."

"And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."

Surely if one abides by these he will find bearing him up "The everlasting arms" Surely in greatest trial he can say, "The Lord is my light and salvation, whom shall I fear." Surely he will follow the star, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness . . . The kingdom of God is love. If one directs all his courses with love as the star, and has faith that God guides where he steers, and has hope for "the everlasting arms," then he steers a true course into eternity.

Ernest McNeill Eller, known to his friends as "Judge," early showed parallel bent in history, writing, and science. Born in Virginia and brought up in North Carolina, he taught high school mathematics and history before entering the United States Naval Academy.

After graduation he served in submarines, aircraft carriers, and battleships and established the Fleet Anti-aircraft Machine Gun School afloat.

In 1940-41, he served in the British Fleet and experimental stations, observing anti-aircraft and other war developments. On his return to the States, he helped develop close-range anti-aircraft weapons and fire control.

Just before the Battle of Midway he reported to Admiral Nimitz's staff for gunnery, fleet training, and preparation of battle analyses and action reports. In this capacity he participated in several amphibious operations including Guadalcanal and Okinawa.

Since 1943, Admiral Eller has served as Head of the Navy's Public Information Bureau, on the Staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff where he participated in setting up the military side of NATO, as Commander of the Middle East Force and, after retirement, as Director of Engineering at Bucknell University before being ordered back to active duty as Naval Historian.

Racing Sport

Lincoln, Neb.

Why is it that the Number 2 spectator sport in the nation receives so little attention in this part of the country by the various news media? The local newspapers, radio stations and television stations seem to have something on the sport only when a spectacular accident occurs. Oh, occasionally a small piece will be inserted in the newspapers for a really big race, and one television station did have something on the Daytona 500-mile race. However, that was five days after the race was run.

Those of us who are interested in the sport would like to see pictures and read or hear of racing news when it happens, the same as baseball, football and lesser sports. We all know that a national television network presents racing programs but these are usually outdated or reruns when they appear.

One local radio station that advertises, "We listen when the public speaks," has a sports announcer who hung up on me when I called the station to inquire about a race.

The month of March will be utilized by many to test new cars, tires and to practice for the 500-mile race at Indianapolis. I hope the sports writers try to do better.

Asking 'Why?'

Lincoln, Neb.

A little brown dog was just crossing the street headed for home. Two little children were waiting for him. A car driven by a man hit the dog. He drove on, turned around and ran over the dog again.

This family has just had a car accident, the boy has been put to bed, the father has to go to the doctor every day for treatment of injuries from the car accident—and now this.

The little boy is 10 years old and the little girl, 8. They say nothing but "why" as they go with their daddy to the vet's to have their dog buried.

Checking Violations

Lincoln, Neb.

Standing at my window recently, I noticed an empty car parked next door, less than 100 feet from a "No Parking" sign. A motorcycle policeman rode by as I was looking out, with not a sign of seeing this violation.

This is not the first time I have seen such cars parked on our block, which is posted with "No Parking" signs for eight blocks. Nor is it the first time I have seen an officer drive by without regarding the violation. Why?

Why should drivers like "Mrs. D." in the March 2 Star have to pay a penalty when innocent, and other drivers be free to commit such violations. Where is our police department falling down? Isn't it time we found out?

Remembering Facts

Lincoln, Neb.

More and more Archbishop Makarios is coming under the influence of the Soviets. We should remember some facts.

The Bolsheviks had ruled in Russia for about half a century and there were no basic changes visible in their manner of treating the countries or the people. There was a long dispute between the Poles and Lithuanians about the town of Wilno where people from both countries lived. What did the Russians do in the 40's? They took the town from the Poles and left it to the Lithuanians. A little later they invaded the whole of Lithuania!

Churchill Explains Origin Of His Painting Career

By ROBERT PETERSON

When and how should one get started in oil painting? Winston Churchill started at the age of 11. It was 1915—the year he was dropped from the Admiralty. "I had enforced leisure," he writes in Among These Storms, "at a moment when every fiber of my being was inflamed to action."

"Then one Sunday in the country the children's paint box came to my aid. My first experiments with their toy water colors led me to secure next morning a complete outfit for painting in oils. The next step was to begin."

"The palette gleamed with beads of color; fair and white rose the canvas; the empty brush hung poised, heavy with destiny, irresolute in the air."

"Very gingerly I mixed a little blue paint with a very small brush and then with infinite precaution made a mark about as big as a small bean upon the affronted snow-white shield."

"At that moment a motor car was heard on the drive and from it there stepped none other than the gifted wife of Sir John Lavery, the distinguished portrait painter. 'Painting! But what are you hesitating about? Let me have a brush, a big one.'"

"Splash into the turpentine, wallop into the paint, a frantic flourish and then several large, fierce strokes of blue on the absolutely covering canvas. The spell was broken. My sickly inhibitions rolled away. I seized the largest brush and fell upon my victim with berserk fury. I have never felt any awe of a canvas since."

It would be interesting to know what percent of the symptoms and sicknesses plaguing men and women are psychologically induced. Last month two acquaintances of mine suffered mild heart attacks. After hearing them describe in clinical detail the symptoms they had experienced, I began feeling what seemed to be identical chest pains and pressures. I thought it must be my imagination, but the symptoms continued for several days so I went to a heart specialist.

He gave me an electrocardiogram, examined my heart through a fluoroscope, checked my cholesterol level, and thumped my chest and listened with his stethoscope.

When I got his report indicating my ticker was A-okay, the symptoms vanished and haven't been heard from since. It brought home the fact that there is such a thing as "sympathetic transference" which can lead to hypochondria and a real organic impairment unless we have the good sense to see a doctor and get the facts.

Who's the eldest person in the nation? The Social Security Administration gives the title to Charlie Smith, 121, of Bartow, Fla. At any rate, he's the eldest person receiving Social Security benefits. They say he still works — as a handyman on a grapefruit farm.

Jerry Atrick says, "Health may be man's greatest blessing. Social Security must be the runner-up."

Exams Slated For State Jobs

The Nebraska Merit System announced Wednesday it will give examinations for all types of clerical positions with four state agencies April 11. Positions need to be filled in the Welfare and Health Departments, the Labor Department's Employment Division and the Civil Defense Agency. The examinations will be administered in about 50 cities.

In order to qualify and for more information, applications must be postmarked by midnight of March 23. Applications may be obtained at any county welfare office or local office of the Division of Employment.

Applications should be sent to the Merit System Office, 11th Floor, State Capitol, Lincoln, Neb.

Scheele Declares Bottle Club Law Unconstitutional; 'Passed Illegally'

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Wednesday ruled unconstitutional the bottle club law, LB23, passed in the 1963 special session of the Legislature.

Judge Scheele rules that the law was illegally enacted because it was outside the scope of the governor's call for the special session.

... the Legislature is limited in its deliberations during a special session to those subjects designated by the governor in his proclamation or to matters germane to such subjects. "In adopting LB23 at the special session, the Legislature fully considered and disposed of the subject legally included ... in the governor's proclamation," he said.

Original Changed
The original bottle club law, LB21, passed in the regular 1963 session, was changed in LB23 to make veterans clubs eligible for non-profit licenses in accordance with the governor's call.

Prior to 1963 there was no state regulation on bottle clubs.

"In adopting LB23 the legislature attempted to legislate concerning matters not included in or germane to any subject included in the governor's proclamation," Judge Scheele said.

"The enactment of LB 23 is therefore in contravention of the Nebraska Constitution, which proves that the legislature in special session 'shall enter upon no business except that for which they were called together.'"

Judge Scheele also ruled that Lincoln ordinances, insofar as they were dependent upon LB23, were unconstitutional.

'Beyond Authority'

Judge Scheele also stated that it was conceded by the plaintiff, the Arrow Club of Lincoln, and the defendants, the City of Lincoln and the state, that the proclamation calling the special session "went beyond the authority vested in the governor" in attempting to prescribe legislation in detail.

Robert Camp, assistant attorney general for the State Liquor Commission, said the effect of Judge Scheele's ruling was to re-establish the law as it was enacted in LB21 during the 1963 regular session.

The following restrictions contained in LB23 are no longer applicable to the Arrow Club as a result of the ruling:

—a required five-day waiting period between receipt of an application for bottle club membership and acceptance of a member.

—maintenance of up-to-date membership lists, with annual copies filed annually with the local governing body.

—a requirement for permission of local governing bodies for Sunday operation.

—a prohibition against use of a power of attorney by clubs to purchase liquor for members.

While Wednesday's ruling specifically covered only the case brought by the Arrow Club, the same principle would apply on other cases pending before Judge Scheele.

Nebraska Employment Dips 12,400 Starting New Year

Nebraska employment slid downward by 12,400 workers from December 1963 to January 1964 as trade moved back to pre-holiday levels and weather forced layoffs in construction and agriculture.

The drop left total Nebraska employment at 575,300. This compares with the December 1963 total of 587,700 and the January 1963 total of 570,500.

All major segments of employment dropped seasonally from month to month, with agricultural forces down

2,000; nonagricultural self-employed down 500; and wage and salary workers down by 9,900.

Total employment, from January 1963 to January 1964, showed an estimated increase of approximately 4,800. Adding to the gain was the non-farm wage and salary section which was up 5,600, while agricultural workers were off 1,000.

Lincoln metropolitan area employment dropped since December by 2,000. A sharp decline in retail trade along with reductions in construction and government accounted for most of this loss.

Unemployment was up 400 to 2,450 as compared with December 1963 unemployment at 2,050 and January 1963 unemployment of 3,100.

Laborite Denies Pledging Royal Navy To U.N. In Talk With LBJ

London (AP)—Harold Wilson, leader of Britain's Labor Party, flew home from the United States Wednesday straight into a storm over defense policy. The trouble blew up from differing versions of what he had told President Johnson in Washington. One report that Wilson had pledged to put the Royal Navy under United Nations command roused the fury of the Conservative Party press.

Wilson, who denied saying any such thing, was fully aware of what it could cost his party in votes in the general election that must be held before Nov. 5. He drove straight to Labor Party headquarters where he told newsmen the report about giving away the Navy was "an invention . . . run for political reasons."

Pressure But some Conservatives still were not satisfied. They put pressure on the Labor Party in the House of Commons to spell out more precisely how Britain would be defended if Labor wins the election.

Simon Wingfield, a Conservative, asked John Hay, civil lord of the Admiralty, to keep in mind the importance of maintaining the size of the conventional fleet.

Hay replied: "It is our intention to see that the size of the conventional fleet is commensurate with our responsibilities."

Laborite Emmanuel Shinwell indignantly protested on behalf of the absent Wilson. At his news conference, Wilson denied ever offering the U.N. the Navy. He gave this version of what he told Johnson:

"I went on to say that Britain has a very great naval tradition and that our naval tradition has been subordinated to the expenditure on the nuclear effort. We also have great expertise, knowledge and experience, particularly in Commonwealth areas. I said Britain had always been a world power and always would be a world power and should not be corralled in Europe."

Britain's role, said Wilson, should not be to add an infinitesimal amount to America's striking power, but to assist in doing something the Americans could not do—putting out brush fires.

Saying that the Labor Party wanted to make the maximum possible contribution to Britain's obligations under the North Atlantic Alliance, Wilson added:

"A thousand troops more east of Suez might make a better contribution to peace than a thousand more men in Germany."

Education Conferences Near End In Nebraska

The series of regional education conferences over Nebraska is nearing its end. With 19 conferences held so far, two more are scheduled Saturday, at Bellevue and Norfolk.

The only other conference firmly scheduled is one called by Gov. Frank Morrison, March 21 at Fremont, although Broken Bow residents are attempting to organize another for that area on March 11, according to Mrs. Moscoe Hill of Lincoln, co-chairman of the conferences.

The only regions where conferences have not been held or attempted are the southeast Panhandle around Sidney and Kimball, and the central Platte River Valley around Dawson County. Inability to get local citizens to help arrange the conferences in those areas was reported.

Representatives of Knox, Pierce, Madison, Wayne, Cedar, Antelope, Boone, Cuming and Stanton Counties are expected to participate in the Norfolk conference.

Brauer Declines

Mrs. Marvin Richards of Albion, conference co-chairman, said S. H. Brauer Jr. of Stuart, executive secretary of the Nebraska School Improvement Association, was invited to be a main speaker at Norfolk but declined the invitation. Brauer has been one of the severest critics of the regional conferences, claiming them to be sounding boards for a broadened tax base.

Gov. Morrison will speak at both the Norfolk and Bellevue conferences.

Mrs. Hill said the over-all state conference steering committee will meet in Lincoln with the governor on Wednesday, March 11, and make final plans for a follow-up state session to be held April 7 and 8 at the Nebraska Center.

Regional conferences have been held at Holdrege, McCook, Lincoln, Waverly, South Sioux City, North Platte, Ogallala, Alliance, Atkinson, Auburn, Chadron, Fairbury, Grand Island, Hastings, Omaha, Scottsbluff, Stromsburg, Weeping Water and York.

Lincoln's Courteous & Friendly Salespeople Offer You More Service, A Larger Selection & Greater Savings

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplaine

Virginia City, high in the barren Nevada hills, advertises itself as "The Liveliest Ghost Town in the West."

It has a more or less permanent population of 650 citizens and some 21 bars.

Virginia City's sidewalks are a gopher's maze. And buildings dip alarmingly when an old mining tunnel caves. For the underground of the town is a gopher's maze.

This is the Comstock Lode — the silver that financed Mr. Lincoln's war. The inflation that built the city of San Francisco. And once the home of booted millionaires, stuffing themselves on imported Maryland Terrapin and Kentucky bourbon.

You climb out of the Washoe valley, overlooking a backdrop of snowy Sierra so clear, so white, it looks like a picture postcard.

If you are lucky, there is a dash of pogonip in the air. Pogonip is a kind of mountain fog peculiar to this land. Mark Twain wrote for the Territorial Enterprise here (still publishing).

Saloon keepers were nuggets for watch chains. Mark Twain observed that "to be a saloon keeper and have killed a man was to be highly regarded by all."

The saloons of today hew to the line. The bartenders wear sleeve garters. Player pianos tinkle in the cheery, beery interiors. And a rich smell of whiskey on bar varnish floats from each hospitable doorway.

The Liveliest Ghost Town, however, lacks the presence of the elegant journalist, Lucius Beebe. And I swear those were the good old days.

Beebe was the last of the Comstock high livers. Some years ago, Beebe came into the crumbling ghost town with type case and journalistic enterprise and editorials that boomed like a frontier model .44.

He restored the Territorial Enterprise. And from its brick doorway each morning, Beebe would walk across to the Delta saloon and refresh himself for the day's fray.

He wore a claw hammer coat and a black hat with a Western brim.

Beebe had a gourmet taste to match those of the miner moguls who dug $750 million worth of silver out of the bleak hills.

He imported Bollinger champagne and Jack Daniel's sour mash whiskey — and insisted that the saloons keep it on hand.

He fixed up a home in John Piper's mansion—Piper ran the old Opera House and imported the finest European singers.

His newspaper ran nostalgic memories of Julia Bullette, a dance hall belle with a heart of gold. Some uncouth fellow pistolled poor Julia. They hanged him after one of the finest, wettest, teariest funerals in the history of Nevada.

Beebe raised her stylish ghost in silk and satin prose. The Liveliest Ghost Town hasn't been so lively since Beebe went away.

Still it is a town of thin, nippy air and a million memories. A few writers move in from time to time — for living is not expensive and book publishers don't spoil the help by overpaying them.

The silver dollars clatter on the tables. Just as they must have clattered when the Fairs and Mackays and O'Briens and other million dollar mining men watched the money roll in. (And no income tax).

Silver fizzes fizz for breakfast — the eye openers open early in the Liveliest Ghost Town.

There's talk of silver again. Now that silver is up to $1.29 an ounce and Nevada faces a shrinking reserve of silver dollars.

I must say though that I miss Beebe and a morning's morning at the Delta.

Film Moves Jackie Near Tears

... LATIN AMERICANS PLEDGE MEMORIAL LIBRARY AID

Washington (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, close to tears at times, won assurances of support from Latin America Wednesday in her campaign to erect a lasting memorial to her late husband. The former First Lady, in another of her rare public appearances, heard at a luncheon at the Pan American Union that Puerto Rico had decided to contribute $100,000 toward the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library at Cambridge, Mass.

It was the second hemispheric government to do so. Venezuela pledged a $100,000 donation on Tuesday. The library, to contain public and private memorabilia of the late chief executive, will cost an estimated $10 million, of which more than $4 million has been promised.

Clad in Black

The late President's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., accompanied the black-clad widow to the luncheon. Tears filled her eyes as she sat watching a film showing scenes of her husband's travels to Latin America and to Germany.

When the lights went on after the 17-minute movie, Mrs. Kennedy looked white-faced and emotionally distressed. Many others in the audience were weeping.

Uruguay's Jose A. Mora, secretary general of the 21-nation Organization of American States (OAS), said he believed every Latin American republic would eventually take part in the library project.

'Admiration'

"The light of admiration for his person and loyalty to his ideas is one which must be kept alive," said Mora. "The image of John F. Kennedy remains a living inspiration to peoples throughout the hemisphere."

The attorney general thanked the ambassadors and said his late brother was not only President of the United States but "President of the young people throughout the world."

For Mrs. Kennedy, the luncheon was one more event in the obviously trying but heartfelt task of building the library.

Schlesinger Interviews

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., the historian who was Kennedy's special White House assistant, is interviewing Mrs. Kennedy in several sittings. These and scores of other tape-recorded recollections of the late President will be placed in the library.

In another development announced Wednesday, 18 distinguished American and foreign architects, artists and designers accepted Mrs. Kennedy's invitation to serve as advisers on the design of the library before an architect is chosen. The committee will meet for the first time in Boston early in April under the chairmanship of artist William Walton, a friend of the Kennedys.

Mrs. Kennedy has her own personal scrapbooks and journals of White House life to add to the library, aided by her ability for what her husband once referred to as "total recall."

Three months after Kennedy's assassination, his widow is being seen more often in public — always in black mourning dress.

Another Invitation

San Salvador, G. — French President Charles de Gaulle has been invited to visit El Salvador on his forthcoming Latin American trip.

NPPS Partners Willing To Talk Rates With Consumers

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Public Power System's two partners Wednesday said they are willing to meet with Consumers Public Power District officials to discuss wholesale rate recommendations made by the Nebraska Power Review Board.

CPPD had suggested a negotiating meeting in letters to the general managers of Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

The Power Board has recommended that present rates remain unchanged until the conclusion of the current rate period on Dec. 31, 1965.

However, the board recommended specific changes in the rate structure after that date.

Consumers has proposed that the power agencies begin negotiations now "to develop and agree on the contract modifications which will become effective with the next rate period starting Jan. 1, 1966."

In a letter to CPPD General Manager Ray Schacht of Columbus, Loup General

Manager John Preston, also of Columbus, replied:

"In reference to the recommendations concerning the rate period beginning Jan. 1, 1966, we are giving the suggestions of the Power Review Board serious consideration."

"Some of these recommendations, however, seem to call for a shift of costs from one customer group to another customer group, as you may have noted."

"We are willing to discuss these and any other recommendations with any of our customers at their convenience, and take into consideration the problems of all customers in establishing our future rates."

Platte General Manager Gerald Gentleman of North Platte has written Schacht that his district is willing to be a part of a committee which would review and consider the Power Board's recommendations.

However, Gentleman told The Star, other NPPS customers—specifically rural electric districts and municipal utilities—should be included in the negotiations.

"One of the recommendations made by the Power Review Board would, in effect, lower Consumers' costs and automatically raise the costs of others," Gentleman noted.

"They are involved. They should sit down with us."

Preston wrote Schacht that Loup was "happy to note that Consumers Public Power District agrees with the conclusion of the Power Review Board that the rates not be disturbed until the end of the current rate period," that is, Dec. 31, 1965.

Preston said he assumed this agreement meant Consumers would dismiss its rate litigation now pending in Platte County District Court.

Farm Safety Unit Chooses Dappen To Be President

T. R. Dappen of 5401 Leighton, was named president of the Nebraska Farm Safety Council Wednesday at the group's annual meeting.

House Unit Okays Congressional Pay Raise Bill

Washington (AP)—A bill that would raise congressional pay $10,000 a year and provide increases for most other federal workers sailed through the House Rules Committee Wednesday and headed for a vote next week.

The bill would add about $15 million to a federal payroll now running a bit over $11 billion a year. It would benefit 1.7 million career employees, federal executives, judges and members of Congress.

For the average letter carrier and government secretary it would mean about $450 a year more, starting July 1. But at higher levels the increases would be much more substantial.

Specifications
The pay of the vice president, speaker of the House and justices of the Supreme Court would go from $35,000 a year to $45,000, with the chief justice getting an additional $500. Cabinet salaries would rise from $22,500 to $32,500.

Big boosts are also provided for subcommittee officials, deputy and assistant secretaries and agency heads, whose salaries would be raised from about $21,000 to $30,000.

Only three members of the Rules Committee voted against the measure—eight were for it—and only one of a string of witnesses spoke against it. This augurs equally smooth sailing when the bill comes up for a House vote, probably Tuesday.

Outspoken Critics
The most outspoken critics were Reps. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., a member of the Rules Committee, who called the bill inflationary, and H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, the lone critical witness, who said it was "unjustified, inequitable and extravagant."

The case for raising congressional pay was put most forcefully by Rep. Robert J. Corbett, R-Pa. If the rest of the bill is passed but Congress knocks out its own increase, he said, many congressional and executive staff employees will receive higher pay than members of Congress.

As for economizing in government, he added:

"This is a big, rich country. There is such a thing as intelligent spending. I wouldn't cut in the field of salaries for human beings, particularly our own people."

20 Peasants Killed

La Paz, Bolivia (AP)—Twenty Indian peasants were killed and 15 injured when a truck carrying them turned over on an Andes Mountain road near Cochabamba.

FOOD STAMP PLAN BACKERS FACE FIGHT

Washington (AP)—Expansion of the food stamp plan, a key weapon for President Johnson's war on poverty, was resurrected Wednesday as a result of a squeeze play that last week bottled up a tobacco-health research program.

But backers of the bill to turn a small pilot stamp project into a permanent nationwide program for needy families said an amendment attached by the House Agriculture Committee requiring states to pay half the costs would cripple it seriously.

"We may as well have no bill at all, because the states just can't put up the 50%," said Rep. Leonor Sullivan, D-Mo., the bill's sponsor. "It would be almost impossible to administer."

Mrs. Sullivan, who has been waging a seven-year battle for the plan, indicated she would make a floor fight to knock out the amendment when it comes up for House debate, or she might bank on the Senate doing that.

The Agriculture Committee tabled the plan 19-11 Feb. 4. Taking a new look Wednesday, the group approved the revised version 18 to 16. Four Southern Democrats out of five who earlier opposed the bill switched sides. Under the plan, families buy stamps and get additional stamps free. These stamps can be spent in a regular grocery store for any grocery item not on the prohibited list.

A part of the opposition to the plan was reported to stem from arguments that most of the recipients of the benefits would be Negroes. The major objection was to the federal government carrying the full costs.

Revival of the expanded plan was engineered by Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the Agriculture Committee, in a frank effort to pry loose the tobacco research bill from the House Rules Committee.

Morris Bishop To Talk At PBK Meeting Here

Morris Bishop, a veteran American scholar, humorist, and poet, will visit the University of Nebraska campus Monday and Tuesday to address an open meeting of Phi Beta Kappa, scholarly honor society, and give two other talks.

A faculty member of Cornell University for almost 40 years, Professor Bishop is now a visiting lecturer for PBK and president of the Modern Language Association, one of the nation's largest academic societies.

He will address the PBK dinner meeting Monday at 6:15 p.m. in the Pan American room, Nebraska Union, and the society has announced that anyone interested in a attend. Those wishing to attend the dinner, however, should make reservations by Friday, March 6, university extension 2770.

The subject of his PBK address is "Pascal and the Creative Mind," a topic which should carry the explanation that Pascal was a distinguished 17th century Frenchman, who, among other things developed the mathematical law of probabilities.

At 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Professor Bishop will speak on "The World as Absurdity," in room 320 Burnett hall, and at 8 p.m., Nebraska Union auditorium, will lecture "Light Verse: Its Theory and Practice."

ernment jobs and said he was serving notice "that this administration is not running a stag party."

His surprise announcement came at a Women's National Press Club dinner at which the first Golden Candlestick Award was made to Mrs. Anna M. Kross, former New York City magistrate recently appointed commissioner of corrections in New York, for work most exemplifying the spirit of the late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Johnson preceded his formal speech by announcing the new appointees ranging from an ambassadorship for Mrs. Katherine E. White of Red Bank, N.J., to a new director of the Women's Bureau in the Labor Department, Mrs. Mary Keyesling, an economist and wife of economist Leon Keyesling.

He said the country to which Mrs. White has been appointed ambassador will be announced later.

Amid applause from the audience of some 600, Johnson listed these other appointees:

Mrs. Virginia Mae Brown, Miss W. V. to be the first woman member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mrs. Pauline Tunkins, North Carolina executive secretary of the American Association of University Women, appointed to the Advisory Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs of the State Department.

Mrs. Norman Chandler, wife of Norman Chandler, president of the Los Angeles Times Mirror Corp., to be a member of the Advisory Committee to the U.S. Information Agency.

Mrs. Julia Edwards, former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to be special consultant to the secretary of labor on youth employment.

Miss Rose McKee, a former newspaper woman, to be director of the Office of Public Information of the Small Business Administration.

Dr. Edna M. Poland of Kansas City, Mo., to be specialist on the research and practice of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Mrs. Barbara Bolling, former wife of the late Richard B. Bolling, to be special assistant to the U.S. chief of protocol.

Mrs. Herbert States of Washington, to be consultant to the U.S. Office of Aging and coordinator of Senior Citizens Month in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Front Lines

In his address Johnson vowed "In our war on poverty, you can expect women to be in the front lines of our attack. If we are to do something of value that will benefit those whose lives are a struggle in poverty, then women must be involved — not because they are women, but because they bring assets to help win this fight."

The Golden Candlestick Award, for selfless service to humanity, is named after the tribute paid Mrs. Roosevelt by U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson upon her death in 1962.

"She would rather light a candle than curse the darkness and her glow has warmed the world."

Johnson noted that, just 31 years ago Wednesday, Franklin D. Roosevelt became 32nd President of the United States and his wife Eleanor assumed the duties of First Lady.

He said Mrs. Roosevelt, by her works soon became more than the First Lady and, indeed, "became the best lady of the land."

Johnson said that with Eleanor Roosevelt, "poverty was her concern, peace was her hope, people were her passion."

Johnson said that one of the favorite authors of his wife, Lady Bird, is F. Scott Fitzgerald, who defined America as "a willingness of the heart."

"How better," he asked, "can we sum up the thrust of Eleanor Roosevelt's impact on an America that needed her compassion—and welcomed her concern?"

Dr. Harold Morgan Is Named To Advisory Unit

Dr. Harold Morgan, Lincoln obstetrician and gynecologist, was named Wednesday to a maternity and newborn infant advisory group of the U.S. Children's Bureau.

The new advisory group will counsel the children's bureau in effective utilization of the 1963 maternal, child health and mental retardation planning amendments, especially for high risk mothers and their babies.

Morgan, a past county and state medical association president, has been on the AMA maternal committee for 10 years, the past several as chairman.

Nebraska Red Cross volunteers begin their annual March campaign this week, according to Ben Polk, Red Cross state relations officer for Nebraska. They seek to raise $212,488 toward the $340,000 Nebraska Red Cross goal. Polk said the campaign will be conducted in counties not having untied fund drives or in rural areas of those counties where larger communities conducted federated campaigns last fall. He said the latest figures show that these federated campaigns raised $574,383, or 92 per cent of a $627,561 goal. In citing the needs for Red Cross funds, Polk said some 600 Nebraska families were affected by natural disaster during the past year. In addition, he said, the Red Cross blood program serves 55 Nebraska counties to provide whole blood and assist in the blood fractionation program.

Pilot Low-Cost Housing Project Urged For City

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A Lincoln Housing Authority committee Wednesday recommended the authority sponsor a pilot project of two blocks in which substandard units would be eliminated, standard units preserved and new low-cost housing provided.

Mayor Dean Petersen announced the details of the committee's report at a Wednesday news conference.

He commended committee members L. A. Enersen and J. Phillip Mahoney for their work and said the report's recommendation would be implemented.

Comprehensive

"It's a comprehensive report that will do much toward solving the city's low-cost housing as proposed by the Home Builders Association of Lincoln in the $50 to $65 rental bracket.

—use Housing Authority funds to build additional units renting for $50 or less. (The authority has a $55,000 surplus.)

—ask that the city provide park facilities and street improvements in the project area.

—request FHA assurances that home improvement loans in this area will be insured if the recommendations are put into effect.

The committee also recommended that the implementation

News Media Get Okay To Attend Executive Meets

McCook (A) — The McCook Board of Education has decided that members of the news media will be admitted to executive sessions of the board in the future, but the privilege will be revoked if the newsmen betray a trust.

The action was taken after a discussion in which Allen Strunk, general manager of the McCook Gazette, told the board he felt executive sessions are undesirable "because they not only build unnecessary barriers between the board and news media, but they tend to weaken the public's trust and confidence in the school policy makers."

Strunk told the board the press is not interested in reporting "the minor personality quirks of teachers . . . nor are we interested in reporting minor discipline problems among individual teachers or students."

"It is not necessary for the board of education to exclude the press to keep discussions of these minor personnel and discipline problems out of print," he said.

Board President David Coolidge cited the law permitting executive sessions and said the closed meetings have been held as "an accommodation to our teachers and protection of our children."

Youths Narrowly Escape As Auto Stalls On Track

Alda (A) — Two Grand Island youths had a narrow escape when their car stalled on the Union Pacific tracks one mile west of Alda and was struck by a westbound freight.

Safety Patrolman Charles Robertson of Grand Island said the youths, Lynn F. Hill, 18, and Mike Miller, 21, reported that they jumped from the car just before the train struck. The car was cut in two.

Robertson said the youths reported the car had stalled once and they had gotten the engine started but it stalled again before they could get it moving. The approach of the train forced them to leap to safety, they reported.

Campbell, Boline Nominated For Tecumseh Mayor

Tecumseh (A) — Two men were nominated for mayor of Tecumseh at a general city caucus.

They are Dr. C. P. Campbell and Clifford W. Boline Sr., the incumbent, mayor John L. Graff, was not re-nominated.

Lloyd R. Brott was re-nominated for police magistrate.

Four persons were nominated for the two three-year school board posts to be filled in the April 7 elections. Those nominated were incumbent Orville Hutt and Jerome Olmsted, Frank Altman and Mrs. Lawrence Chittenden.

tion of the recommended investments be coordinated by the City Planning Department or Housing Authority so the resulting development may benefit to the maximum from the efforts of over-all planning.

The committee reported the 1960 census showed 2,123 families with less than $2,000 annual income and an additional 2,289 families with income between $2,000 and $2,999.

If the six-to-one ratio of income to rent is accepted as prescribed by the Housing Authority Act, there exists a need in Lincoln for 4,412 dwelling units renting for less than $50 per month.

Of the 2,992 dwelling units listed in the city as renting for less than $50, 338 are dilapidated and 1,446 lack some or all plumbing facilities, the report said. Units which are either dilapidated or lacking in plumbing facilities thus total 1,784.

This means 1,138 or 38% of the units may be considered as meeting minimum standards and the unmet need for 1,748 standard units renting for less than $50 may be presumed, the report said.

"If all the 1,446 units with insufficient plumbing facilities were brought up-to-standard by rigid enforcement of the minimum housing standards or ordinance, the unmet need would be reduced to 338 units."

No Site Pinpointed
Enersen said the committee had not pinpointed a particular site for the project, but said the city has several areas of considerable substandard housing.

The report contained supporting 1960 federal census data on income and substandard housing and a comparative analysis of two bills before Congress to provide federal rent subsidies for leased or privately-owned housing for low-income families.

The report indicates it is doubtful new standard dwellings renting for $50 or less can be provided without some form of subsidy.

Further discussion of the report and plans of the home builder's group is expected at the March 18 meeting of the Mayor's Council on Human Relations.

PIANO PLANT BURNS

A general alarm fire raged out of control at the Baldwin Piano Co. in Cincinnati, Ohio, Tuesday night. Flames shot 200 feet to 300 feet into the air. Several firemen were injured.

State Evangelical Meet March 10-11

Grand Island (A) — Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend the Nebraska State Evangelical convention in Grand Island March 10-11. Speakers include Dr. Henry Brandt, consulting psychologist and church administration counselor; Lt. Commander Floyd Robertson, executive secretary of the commission on chaplains of the National Association of Evangelicals, and the Rev. W. Stanley Mooneyham, director of information and field services of the National Association of Evangelicals.

Sailor With Transplant Limb Gets Gangrene

Guayaquil, Ecuador (UPI) — Sailor Julio Luna, only man in history to receive the transplanted limb of a dead man, has developed gangrene in the grafted hand, Guayaquil Clinic reported Wednesday.

Luna, 28, lost his hand and forearm in a grenade explosion Feb. 13. Dr. Roberto Gilbert that same day transplanted the forearm and hand of a laborer who had just died of hemorrhaging stomach ulcers.

The operation made medical history and Luna was to have been flown to Boston's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital Thursday for observation and continued treatment.

The gangrene was disclosed after a panel of 13 top Ecuadorian surgeons gave the sailor a thorough physical examination.

A Guayaquil Clinic spokesman said the gangrene has "mummified" the fingers on the transplanted right hand and turned them black.

The doctors were keeping the sailor under close observation to determine the extent of the spreading of the "dry gangrene." They feared they may have to amputate the grafted limb.

The projected trip to Boston was cancelled under orders from Dr. Gabriel Panchana, surgeon general of the Ecuadorian navy.

Omaha Asked To Withdraw P.O. Building Request

Omaha (A) — Mayor James Dworak reported that the General Services Administration has asked Omaha to withdraw its application for the old postoffice building.

The city proposes using the site as a park. Dworak said representatives of the GSA told him that the Interior Department looks unfavorably on the project, though the application has not formally been laid before the agency yet.

Dworak said the application would not be withdrawn.

Senate Bars Move To Kill Tobacco Supports

Washington (AP) — The Senate turned down 63 to 26 Wednesday an effort to kill federal price supports for tobacco and then began arguing over a controversial proposal to limit meat imports to the 1958-62 level.

Backers of the wheat-cotton subsidy bill which the Senate has been considering since last Thursday protested that if the meat quota is added the legislation is dead. Passage by late Thursday was forecast if the amendment is beaten.

Earlier in the day, the Senate had defeated 60 to 30 an amendment to put a support price floor of $1.63 a bushel under wheat for export which was calculated to bring about $35 million to $40 million to wheat growers this year.

A vote appeared likely Thursday on the proposal by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., to impose an import quota on beef, mutton, lamb, sheep and kindred products, both fresh and frozen.

He said this plan would limit imports to 540 million pounds annually compared to 920 million pounds under a formula contained in agreements the United States negotiated recently with Australia and New Zealand.

The proposal to eliminate support for tobacco, which have been in effect for many years, was made by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. He contended the $40 million a year the program costs the taxpayers is not justified in light of the recent government study which declared smoking is a health hazard.

Williams' proposed amendment to the wheat-cotton bill brought a storm of protests from tobacco state farmers.

Nebraska Senators Carl Curtis and Hruska voted with the majority as the Senate defeated the farm bill amendment to eliminate the 90% price support program for tobacco.

Seven Candidates File For Delegate

Seven more Nebraskans filed Wednesday as candidates for delegates or alternate delegates to national political conventions.

Jack Kidd of McCook and Arnold E. Otto of Phillips filed as delegates to the Democratic convention from the Third District.

W. C. Fraser of Omaha filed as delegate to the Republican convention from the Second District, and Sam Jensen of Omaha filed as a GOP alternate delegate from the same district.

Robert G. Simmons Jr. of Scottsbluff filed as a Republican delegate from the Third District, and Mrs. Frances Fowler of Gering and Frank B. Svoboda of Ogallala filed as alternate delegates to the GOP conventions from the same district.

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings formally completed his filing as a candidate for re-election to the Legislature from the 33rd District, and Guy L. Nelson of McCook filed as a candidate for the District.

It Seems To Me Questions, Answers

Patricia Scott

Q. I am going to make some summer dresses out of striped cotton. The skirts are wide with the side seams on the bias. How can I be sure that the stripes match properly on the seams when basting?—MRS. C. E.

A. The best way is to slip-baste. Working on the right side of the skirt, fold one seam allowance under on the seam line and place the fold on the seam line of the other seam allowance. Pin your seam in place this way, matching the stripes perfectly. Then slip your needle along in the fold of the upper layer and through the lower layer until the seam is completely basted. When you turn it to the wrong side to machine-stitch, you'll see that it is basted in place with stripes matching.

Q. How can I convert my husband's double-breasted jacket into a single breasted one? Thank you.—MRS. L. S.

A. This conversion is far too complicated to explain in a column. It requires a professional tailor who has worked on men's clothing.

Q. When I cut out a pattern, unless the fabric is firm and does not slip I always get a ragged edge. How can I use scissors and handle fabric so the cut edges are clean?—MISS P. F.

A. While cutting keep the fabric flat on the table. Cut with long even strokes instead of snipping away with short ones. Your shears are important; never use them for anything other than fabric.

Q. I want to use some patterns I have for summer dresses and wish to change them around. Can I add sleeves to a sleeveless pattern and vice versa?—MISS A. M.

A. I don't advise adding a sleeve because the armhole must be recut and shaped. Just any sleeve won't fit into a particular armhole. As for leaving out the sleeves, this too can be a problem because the armhole will be too big. Sleeveless armholes are usually about 3/4 inch higher. If you wish, you can try raising the armhole when cutting or using another sleeveless pattern as a guide to reshape and make the armhole higher.

Q. Just what does "Mitering a corner" mean? I've seen it used in several of your columns and in sewing instructions generally.—MISS E. P.

A. To join the fabric diagonally at a corner.

Patricia Scott has prepared a booklet, HOW TO ALTER YOUR DRESS PATTERNS, which gives complete instructions for altering so that finished garments will fit perfectly. For your copy of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of Box 158, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25c in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters

June Bride-Elect

Announcement is being made this morning of the betrothal of Miss Diane Claudia Joens, daughter of Mrs. Karl Miller Joens of Omaha, and the late Mr. Joens, to James Thomas Gleason, also of Omaha.

The wedding will be an event of June 20.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi and of Pi Lambda Theta honorary. Her fiancé, who is the son of Mrs. Bruce H. Thomas of Omaha, and the late James J. Gleason, attended the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y., and is a student at the University of Nebraska. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Courtesies For Bride-Elect

Another in the series of courtesies honoring Miss Carol Gartin will be held next Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Elva Long and Mrs. Bernice Gardner will entertain at the home of Mrs. Long. The guests, who have been invited for 2:30 o'clock, will present a miscellaneous shower to the bride-elect.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gartin, Miss Gartin has announced that her marriage to Jim Dermier will be solemnized at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, March 28.

Bookmark Club

Miss Betty Wright will be hostess to the members of the Bookmark Club on Thursday evening. The 7:45 o'clock program will be held at Miss Wright's home, 3327 So. 48th, and will include a book review by Miss Eva Erickson.

For the wedding, which will take place in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, Miss Gartin has named Miss Annie Laurie Whitmer as her maid of honor. The bridesmaid will be Miss Nancy Schenfeld of Greeley.

Keith Sieck will serve Mr. Dermier as best man, and

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

We have heard of many plights of many homemakers, but the other day, one was especially bad. Her three children had chicken pox, and she had to call off a morning coffee a few hours before it was scheduled.

To make matters worse, she was out of groceries, and the car had a flat tire. When we talked to her, all she said was, "Oh well, things will change."

A few days later, things did. Her children recovered from the chicken pox just in time to get the mumps.

However, these trying moments are the exception rather than the rule in Suburbia, and we have news of happier times for all.

One of the more entertaining evenings in Northeast Heights will be on Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Brehm, when their daughter, Laurie Brehm, will celebrate her 12th birthday.

This, of course, calls for a slumber party with a group of friends, which is exactly what will happen. Laurie's guests will be Denise Folsom, Cindy Fletcher, Judy Price, Connie Haar, Donna Upton, Pat Hart, Karen Geist, Susan Swartz, Sandy Johnson, and Janice Torelli, who have been instructed by Laurie to "bring all their records."

Another birthday in Northeast Heights was that of Lora Mark Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaRoy Campbell, who celebrated his first or fourth birthday Feb. 29.

the ushers will be Mr. Dermier's brothers, Tom Dermier and Don Dermier, and Bill Fowles.

Hear Speaker

At the meeting of Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held Tuesday evening at the chapter rooms, Mrs. Francis Rotter presented the program.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Ruth McElhane introduced Fawzi Abed, University of Nebraska foreign student, who spoke on and showed films of Cairo, Egypt.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

Lorn and his parents traveled to Columbus and the home of Mrs. Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Buller on Saturday. Lorn and his grandmother shared the birthday honors, since Mrs. Buller's anniversary was March 2.

The Campbell family returned home Sunday evening.

PARK MANOR

A recent host and hostess in Park Manor were Mr. and Mrs. LeMoine Jones, who held an open house at their home Sunday afternoon. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, newcomers to Lincoln.

Mr. Anderson is the new division manager of the Bureau of Public Roads, and the open house guests were employees of the department.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams this week are Mrs. Adams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Meade of Emmetsburg, Iowa who arrived on Friday.

On Sunday, Mr. Adams left for a business meeting in Sterling, Ill., and is expected home today. In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Maade have been keeping Mr. Adams company.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams' daughter, Mrs. Carl Miller, and Miss Mary Kay Gunn motored to Ogallala Saturday and accompanied Mrs. David Tighe and her son, Scott, back to Lincoln.

This, however, did not end the weekend activities at the Adams home. Mrs. Adams' birthday was on Sunday, and she had an informal family celebration in which her sons, John, Tom, Terry, Dave, Steve, and Jeff participated.

Mrs. Arthur Hill is a co-hostess today with her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. Hill, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Orloff, for a luncheon at East Hills, honoring Mrs. Orloff's mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Orloff of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Orloff arrived in Lincoln Sunday, and plans a ten-day visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orloff. The luncheon guests will include friends and relatives.

Maybe Hubby Needs A Doctor

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have been married forty two years and are both in our sixties. My husband has always been a ladies' man, but the older he gets, the worse he gets. He has to have a woman doctor, a woman barber, and he will never let a man wait on him in a store if he can get a woman to do it. If a neighbor woman drops in to visit with me, even if he is busy outside, he comes right in and takes over, and I seldom get a word in. Also, when the most innocent remark is made, his eyes light up, he gets a dirty smirk on his face and he twists it around to make it sound smutty. I am at the end of my rope. Does this happen to ALL men when they get on in years?

DEAR KATHY: Not your boy friend.
DEAR ABBY: The item in your column, "Confidential to Buffalo Bill: Do not resent growing old. It is a privilege denied to many" hit me hard. Abby, I am a 28-year-old widow with two small children, 6 and 8. My husband was 27 years old when he died of electric shock at his job. If people only know how lucky they were to have each other!

HEARBROKEN IN BATAVIA, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me why it is almost impossible to get a woman to pay

The bidding:

Pass Pass 1♠ Pass
2NT Pass 3♠ Pass
3♠ Pass 4♠ Dble.

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

M. Harrison-Gray, one of England's top players, makes an interesting point about this hand reported in the British Bridge Magazine.

South is playing four spades doubled and West leads the jack of hearts. West's double is questionable, for, while he can reasonably expect to beat four spades, there is a decided danger of alerting declarer to the trump situation by doubling — which in turn might affect South's normal line of play and produce the winning result for him.

Certainly it is not difficult, after the double, for South to realize that the trumps are stacked against off a bet to a man? Women make bets right along with men, and they always collect when they win, but they rarely pay off when they lose. Why is that?

AL: There are no statistics on the subject, but it is my observation that when a woman bets with a man, and loses, she will offer to pay, but the man, not wishing to accept money from a woman, usually says, "Oh, forget it."

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, BOX 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Good Morning

Perhaps what this country needs is not the five-cent cigar of which Thomas Riley Marshall spoke so many years ago — but more holidays. Actually the United States has but five substantial holidays to its credit — Christmas, New Year's, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving. The list, of course, does not include the bank holidays — the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln — and Columbus Day.

If anyone feels the need of more celebrations we suggest that he go to Langada, Greece, where in May the Firewalking Ceremony is the thing. Everyone flexes his toes and lines up for what could develop into some sprint records.

Then there is Holland's Sheep Shearing Festival in June — and if you haven't had enough, how about the Red Coat Festival in Vila Franca de Xira, Portugal, in July. Or, if you prefer, you could attend South Africa's Zulu Festival, also in July.

In the meantime, have fun on the home front — The members of the Colonial Dancing Club are doing just that on Friday evening at Hotel Cornhusker. "Spring Frolic" is the theme of the party which has been planned by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Enersen, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. George David, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Griffith, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Hellweg, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph McGoogan, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Powell, Mr. and Mrs.

Rex Reckeway, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reese.

The guest couples will include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holbert and Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Stephan.

This morning the distaff side of the committee will meet for coffee and plan completing at the home of Mrs. Enersen.

Speaking of the distaff side — the housewives in New Orleans are in for a rude awakening, according to the Internal Revenue Service. The ladies have blithely ignored payment of Social Security on their maids, cleaning women and other household help. The IRS states that a vigorous effort will be made to collect nearly $1 million from the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Salisbury, who are just home, didn't attend any Sheep Shearing Festivals or Firewalking ceremonies, but they did complete 16,000 air miles in South America — They traveled down the east coast, spending some time at Rio de Janeiro, going to Brazil — and on to Buenos Aires — Then to Chile and on to Peru where they visited Machu Picchu, the City of the Lost Incas.

Saturday night is dine and dance night for the members of the Terpsichorean Club who will have their St. Patrick's party at Hotel Lincoln.

In charge of the party arrangements is a committee which includes Mr. and Mrs. John Capron, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rhoden and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wendelin.

Members Of Judicial Nominating Groups Told

Names of lawyers elected by fellow attorneys to the various judicial nominating commissions for a term to expire Jan. 1, 1970, were released by the clerk of the State Supreme Court.

They will serve with two other attorneys, a Supreme Court judge and three laymen appointed by the governor to each commission under the merit plan for judicial selection approved by the voters in November 1962.

In some cases the lawyers elected to a six-year term were originally appointments to the commission whose terms expired. In other cases they are new.

They are:

Clay Shuns 'The Greatest' Claim In Visit To U. N.

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Cassius M. Clay visited the United Nations Wednesday and said, "Oh, I love it."

The world heavyweight boxing champion explained that he came to this diplomatic capital because "I love to meet all the people from all over the world."

"I'm really studying on being the mayor of New York," Clay told reporters. "The people are really shook up and they look at me as if I was a messenger or prophet or something."

He said now that he was champion, his main goal is "to see that 20 million Negroes have freedom, justice and equality" in the United States. He described himself as a Moslem; he objects to the term "Black Muslims" applied to American Negro devotees of Islam.

Clay said he is leaving on a world tour in a month or two and may be gone for a year.

That was his answer when he asked when he planned to defend the title he won from Sonny Liston in Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 25. He said he would fight some exhibitions on the world tour.

He said he aimed to visit places including Ghana, Nigeria, Egypt, Turkey, Pakistan, Rome and the Moslem holy city of Mecca, in Saudi Arabia.

"I've been invited by the ambassadors of various countries," he added.

Asked if he expected to meet Pope Paul VI in Rome, Clay replied, "I would love to meet him—yeah."

Asked if he would like to meet U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, he said "I'd like to meet all of 'em." He did not meet Thant.

But he did meet ambassador Sori Coulibaly of Mali, chairman of the U.N. Special Committee on Colonialism (South Africa's race segregation policy); Chief S. O. Adebajo of Nigeria, Nigerian chief delegate; ambassador Christie W. Dow, Libertan deputy chief delegate, and other diplomats and U.N. employees from Ghana, Morocco, Tanganyika, Togo and Tunisia.

He denied any knowledge of the outcome of his Army-induction psychological test, though he confirmed he had taken one in Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 24.

Asked about a Louisville newspaper report that he had failed the test, he replied, "I know nothing about that."

Never once did Clay call himself "The Greatest," as he had been doing until recently. He explained: Before the fight "I was campaigning and demonstrating" but "I'm just acting myself now."

When asked how he beat Liston, Clay said: "I had all faith in Allah. With all faith in Allah and keeping up the right prayers, I don't see how you can lose. And living a clean life, that really pulled me through."

Pressed for some technical details, Clay went on: "The fight was a tough fight. Liston was strong. The matador was not as strong as the bull, but his brain power outmaneuvered the bull."

Clay said New York City

was his home now and I'm scouting on the outskirts for a little place."

"New York is the center of the whole world," he explained. "I'm the champion of the whole world. The champion of the whole world should live in the center of the whole world."

The Louisville-born fighter came here with his brother, Rudolph; his secretary, Archie Robinson, and the New York "Black Muslim" leader, Malcolm X.

The boxer was invited to the United Nations and shown around by Mal Goode of the American Broadcasting Co. and Warren Holley, a U.N. guard, both of whom are Negroes.

Clay made many of his remarks in interviews with Goode and Levon Keshishian of Al Ahram, an Arabic newspaper in Cairo.

Lincoln closed out the season with a 10-6 record.

NORTHEAST ADVANCES ... Rockets Edge Links

WINNING COACH ... Ed Johnson.

Precision passing and deadly shooting carried Northeast to a 54-50 victory over Lincoln High Wednesday night and shot the Rockets into the finals of the Class A district Basketball tournament at Pershing Auditorium.

Northeast, which had lost the two regular season games to Lincoln, will meet the winner of tonight's 7:30 clash between Plus X and Southeast. The title game will come Saturday night.

Northeast, lagging 7-2 at the outset, roared back to take command by the end of the first period and never trailed.

Working the Lincoln zone defense for long, but good shots, Northeast caught Lincoln at 11-11 and then blew the Links aside with a 10-point salvo which made it 21-11.

That lead represented the widest of the night and the Links came back to make a game of it. But the big blast eventually made the difference.

Lincoln cut the gap to three points on a couple of occasions, but the pressure was on the Links all the way. The last time the Links appeared to have a chance came at 50-47 when Dennis Wertz hit a spinner with 2:55 to play.

But the Rockets buckled down, hit their free shots down the stretch and the Links couldn't pull it out.

Northeast received a balanced scoring attack, four players producing double figures.

Jerry Motz, who entered the contest with a 19.9 scoring average, led the Rockets with 16 points. Terry Monk had 12, and Tom Ochsen and Chuck Turek 10 each.

It was Turek who was gunning them in when the Rockets made the big move early in the game.

Frank Brill scored 16 points for Lincoln to match Motz. Joe Wertz scored 11 for the Links. Wertz had 10 and Bob Vasatka, who normally produces in the point department, was limited to 8.

Northeast will carry a 12-4 record into the final game.

City Park Board Asks For Pro At New Course

... SEEKS $2 FEE AT HOLMES PARK

By TOM KEITH
Star Staff Writer

The City Park Board Wednesday voted to recommend to the City Council that a golf pro be hired by the city to operate the new Holmes Park Golf Course, near 56th and Van Dorn.

The board recommended that the pro be hired and paid a minimum of $300 per month and receive the profits of all concessions at the course except the restaurant and eating concessions.

The board will recommend the pro be a member of the Professional Golfers' Association for a period of at least three years.

The contract under which the pro will work is being drawn up by Walter Mitchell, city personnel director. The contract will then be presented to the City Council for acceptance.

The board also recommended daily green fees at the new golf course be set at $2.00 for week days and $3.00 for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. From this base a "twilight fee" will be determined later.

In other action the board opposed the purchase of land by the city along the Dead Man's Run area, near Cotner and Vine, for the purpose of later development into a park.

The board will recommend to the city council against any leasing of public, city owned parks to any individual or groups of individuals.

This decision came about after a request by the Capital City Water Shows for the leasing of the west one-half of the east lake at Oak Lake Park for the purpose of practicing for water ski shows.

The board made no decision on the question of allowing power boats on the Holmes Park Lake. Park Supt. James Ager will prepare a copy of rules and regulations for all types of water recreation for the next board meeting, and at that meeting the board will decide on the issue.

William Dobler, chairman of the board, said if the board decides against allowing power boats on the lake, the lake will be used for all types of water recreation except those involving the use of power boats.

Defending Class B King Ousted By Papillion '5'

... RALSTON RALLY STOPS AUBURN

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Tourney favorite Ralston notched a come-from-behind victory, but defending state champion Falls City couldn't match the performance in semifinal Class B district action at Nebraska Wesleyan Wednesday night.

The Rams, ranked No. 6, were down 40-33 after three quarters, but stormed back for a 58-49 win over Auburn.

Falls City, trailing by almost the same margin at 39-33, went scoreless from the field in the final period as it relinquished its hopes for a repeat title in a 58-40 loss to Papillion.

The championship match brings the two Ak-Sar-Ben conference members together for the third time of the season.

Papillion, sporting the same 19-2 record that Ralston carries, has lost only to the Rams and was ranked No. 7 in the pre-tournament ratings.

Ralston's only losses have been at the hands of Syracuse and University High, first round losers in the district competition.

Falls City dropped from the tourney trail as it hit on only 19% of its shots from the field.

Randy Ernie Strassl was the only scoring threat for the Tigers, finishing with 25 points. And even he suffered from a miserable shooting night.

The Tigers were kept outside by the Papillion zone defense and didn't get many second opportunities at the basket as rugged Don Tex turned in another sparkling performance on the boards for the Monarchs.

The bulky 5-10 forward with a remarkable sense of timing also led the winners in scoring, largely on the strength of a perfect 11 for 11 night at the charity line.

Auburn, which had Ralston ready for the kill heading into the final stanza, couldn't weather the spirited comeback by the Rams.

Ralston rallied with a 10-point spree at the outset of the last quarter and then salted the game away in the last 90 seconds when sophomore guard Rick Koch calmly dunked six straight free throws.

York Holds Back Aurora For Win

... DUKES SCORE 'B' VICTORY

York — Second ranked York had to hold off a desperate bid by scrappy Aurora here Wednesday for a 72-68 victory that advanced the Dukes into the Class B district finals.

The Dukes, who won their 14th against two defeats, appeared to have the contest broken open when they raced away to a 14-point lead late in the second quarter. But Aurora came back with seven straight points that chopped the halftime margin to 37-30, and the Huskies just kept coming back all night.

With 6-6 Paul Johnston missing considerable action because of foul trouble, York was unable to contain the faster and scrappier Huskies who went into the contest with a 7-10 record.

Aurora never did catch up but three times in the last hectic minutes they narrowed the gap to three points. When Johnston, who scored 19 points and dominated the rebounding for York, fouled out with 2:30 to go, it looked like Aurora might have a chance.

The Huskies did slash five points off what had been an eight-point deficit but a missed free throw and a couple of mistakes in the final moments cost them a chance of victory.

Jim Nixon joined Johnston as the game's high scorers with 19 points while Keith Staehr chipped in 13 for York. Charles White got 12 for the winners and his burst of five baskets late in the third quarter and early in the fourth was instrumental in preserving the Duke's lead.

Aurora had four men in double figures. Gerald Olson scored 15, Ron Anderson and Mike Newman 14 each and Bob Sands 11. Six-four junior Gerald Waddell turned in a fine rebounding job for the losers.

—ELK CREEK DUMPED— D Champ De Witt Gains Playoff Final

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — De Witt, the Class D king will take on Sterling, the fair-haired prince in Thursday's regional basketball finale here.

The title defenders dropped Elk Creek with relative ease in the first round, 53-43, but Sterling (19-5) required an overtime to come through against Beatrice St. Joseph. The count was 62-61, the Jets nearly flaming out in a super-sonic finish.

The variety of a see-saw opening had switched in the second period to scoring that was knotted four times, including a 29-29 intermission. Coach James Ossian's tall troops then pushed to two ten-point leads before St. Joe opened up with a fourth quarter rally that fairly ripped off the cords.

Led by a pair of sweet guards barely sugar-bowl size, the Ravens racked up an incredible 13 points in two and a half minutes while holding Sterling scoreless. Dick Roach and Tom Hawkins, each 5-6, fattened their totals of 17 and 16 points in maneuvering to a 54-47 lead.

Wendell Wilson and Co. countered well, however, and the Jets' Gary Schmidt tied the contest at 55-55 with two free throws before a key miss by each team. Overall, Wilson's 29 added up to nearly half his team's total. Sterling sophomore Walter Zink chose the overtime for three of his 11 points. Ball control by his teammates then neutralized even two desperation drops by St. Joe's Roach just 34 and 8 seconds before the end.

Sterling held a free throw advantage with an 18-26 showing, while St. Joe canned 9 of 12.

In the opener, Elk Creek lost all but their suits in a blustery third quarter that saw them outscored by De Witt, 19-7. Several sidewinders by 6-1 Lavelle Hitzemann had rushed the Antlers to a 13-4 start, though this gap was narrowed somewhat by a bevy of De Witt buckets.

Larry Wattjes and sophomore smoothly Steve Jarchow zeroed in from outside in the second and by halftime De Witt had passed by, 27-25.

Intermission also found the Panthers' Doug Tietjen with his fourth foul—but he stood ground the full game without No. 5.

Hitzemann's after half cold spell especially hurt the Antlers, only three points contrasting against a 14-point outpour the first two frames. Teammate Terry Peters potted 15, Tietjen and Wattjes totaling 19 and 18 for De Witt.

Coach Bob Alderson's champs will enter the finale with an 18-2 record.

—SILAS ON 3RD ALL-AMERICAN SQUAD— AP Tabs Bradds '64 Player Of Year

New York (AP)—Gary Bradds, the 6-foot-8 All-American at Ohio State who reeled off six successive performances of 40 points and up, was named the college basketball Player of the Year for 1964 by The Associated Press Wednesday.

The Buckeye star gained the distinction by a narrow margin over Cotton Nash of Kentucky's Southeastern Conference champions from the 371 sports writers and broadcasters who chose the AP's 1964 All-American team.

Bradds collected 215 firsts and 62 seconds in the annual balloting for the All-America. On the basis of five points for a first and two points for a second, this gave the Big Ten star from Jamestown, Ohio, a total of 1,199 points.

Nash, a native of Lake Charles, La., whose family now lives in Leominster, Mass., was close behind with 207 firsts and 62 seconds for 1,159 points.

It was the closest finish in the four years that The Associated Press has named a Player of the Year and returns the honor to the school where Jerry Lucas won it in 1961 and 1962. Art Heyman of Duke won last season.

Walt Hazzard, who led the top-ranked UCLA Bruins to the Big Six title, finished third in the voting with 195 firsts and 1,087 points overall. Then came Bill Bradley of Princeton with a 783 total and Dave Stallworth of Wichita with 765. Bradley and Stallworth each got 123 firsts. Bradds, Nash, Hazzard, Bradley and Stallworth made the first All-American team. Second team honors went to Jeff Mullins of Duke, Cazzie Russell of Michigan, Fred Hetzel of Davidson, Mel Counts of Oregon State and Ron Bonham of Cincinnati.

On the third team were Howard Knieloves of Bowling Green, Paul Silas of Creighton, Bill Buntin of Michigan, Barry Kramer of NYU and Jim Barnes of Texas Western. Bonham and Kramer made the 1963 first team as juniors, like Bradds, but failed to repeat.

'Less Cash Means Moon Shot Holdup'

Washington (UPI)—Civilian space chief James E. Webb said Wednesday the United States will fail to realize its goal of landing astronauts on the moon by 1970 if Congress refuses to grant President Johnson's full space budget request.

He testified before the Senate Space Committee in support of the $4.3 billion sought by the President for fiscal 1965, plus $141 million for the current fiscal year ending June 30. He said these funds represent a tight spending schedule for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Webb made a similar plea about a month ago before the House Space Committee. A poll of that committee showed Wednesday that most of the top members see little chance of America putting a man on the moon in this decade.

Only two of seven members whose views were sought felt chances were good for the space agency to meet its goal. And those two—Chairman George P. Miller, D-Calif., and Rep. Olin T. Teague, D-Tex., indicated they thought it could be done only if Congress voted the money.

Several House committee members thought it was essential to provide the President's full money requests. But the $141 supplemental appropriations bill for the rest of this year is in trouble. It is strongly opposed by Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the House Appropriations Committee.

Webb told the Senate committee that failure to provide the funds would mean that "there is nothing left to sacrifice except the national goal" of reaching the moon by 1970.

Capitol Visitors To Be Honorary Citizens Of State

Visitors from other states to the Nebraska Capitol building will sometime in the not-too-distant future begin receiving inscribed certificates, signed by the governor, making them honorary Nebraska citizens.

This plan by State Sen. Harold B. Stryker of Rising City, was endorsed by the Nebraska Centennial Commission, which authorized expenditure of $550 for a supply of 100,000 certificates.

The certificates will designate the honorary citizen as "Nebraska Centennial Ambassadors," expected to return to the state in the centennial year of 1967 and in the meantime to spread the centennial story.

The commission appointed Virgil I. Pitstick of Nebraska City as chairman of the Centennial Arbor Day promotion committee and authorized the awarding of two prizes of $100 each for the best drawing designs for a centennial commemorative medal.

Webb's plea got a mixed reception. Space Committee Chairman Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., suggested that Webb's comments made it sound as if he was prepared to make Congress "a sacrificial goat" if any cuts at all are made in the program.

Webb replied by stressing that the program has been cut to a point where NASA has "only a fighting chance" to reach the 1970 goal.

In a companion space development, the Defense Department disclosed that the Air Force plans to launch at least six of the manned orbiting laboratories that it was ordered to develop when the Dynasaur winged spacecraft program was killed last Dec. 10.

The laboratories, about the size of a small house trailer, will be used to test man's ability to do useful work in space.

AT SINATRA TRIAL

Actress Vicki London, all dressed up for her part in a Western musical, poses for photographers in Los Angeles Wednesday after testifying for the defense in the trial of three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. The defense called the starlet as a witness, interrupting the cross-examination of defendant John Irwin to put her on the stand briefly.

Gen. MacArthur Wants No Visits

Washington (AP)—Ailing Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at his own request and that of his wife, has been receiving no visitors since he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital on Monday for "observation and evaluation of abdominal complaints." However, his longtime friend and aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, is spending time with him each day during interludes between diagnostic tests the general is undergoing.

YRs To Emphasize Local Programs Of Government

Lancaster County Young Republicans have initiated a program to put greater emphasis on local government.

YR County Chairman Ron Horstman announced Wednesday that Bob Peterson of Lincoln would head a local government committee which will have representatives at each meeting of the Lincoln City Council and Lancaster County Board.

The organization plans to present ideas for government improvement to the two bodies and to take definite stands on local issues, Horstman said. He noted that, "As Young Republicans we believe that the best government is that closest to its people, and that it is the duty of each citizen to do his or her share in helping maintain good government at the local level."

Horstman also announced that Carroll Thompson, chairman of the Mayor's Council on Human Relations, will address a YR meeting March 13 at 7:30 p.m. at East Hills Country Club.

Attorney General Asked To Decide On Ak-Sar-Ben

Omaha (AP)—Douglas County Attorney Donald Knowles said Wednesday he has asked Attorney General Clarence Meyer for an opinion on the tax-exempt status of Ak-Sar-Ben.

He was asked by Chairman Jack Cavanaugh of the Douglas County Board to seek the opinion after County Assessor Joe Stolinski recommended that Ak-Sar-Ben be placed on the tax rolls. Stolinski said he felt some of Ak-Sar-Ben's property did not qualify for tax exempt status under the new law.

Knowles pointed out in his letter to Meyer that an attorney general's opinion in 1936 held the property to be tax exempt.

Miss Means To Speak At Journalism Banquet

Marianne Means, the only woman correspondent on the 16-member White House press corps, will speak at the University of Nebraska April 11.

Miss Means will be the featured speaker at the annual Matrix banquet sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi professional fraternity for women in journalism. The banquet will be held in conjunction with the regional convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional fraternity for men in journalism.

A university graduate and native of Sioux City, Ia., Miss Means is currently serving as correspondent for the Hearst Headline Service. She will speak on the administration's transition from the late President John F. Kennedy to President Lyndon Johnson and problems encountered covering the events in Dallas, Texas last November.

Outstanding women journalists in Nebraska will be recognized at the banquet. Awards will be presented to winners in three contests: general news and features, women's page news and features, and women's page general excellence.

Hardin Named To Education Council Executive Group

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska has been named a member of the Executive Committee of the Council on Higher Education in the American Republics.

Dr. Hardin returned this week from the organization's annual meeting at Lima, Peru. He was one of 21 Americans attending the Lima gathering.

King Says Demonstrations To Resume

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI) — Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King said Wednesday that mass racial demonstrations would be resumed in Birmingham within 30 days because the city had reneged on integration pledges. "Things will get hot before 30 days," seconded the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, one of Dr. King's top aides.

The two racial leaders said Birmingham city officials and merchants had failed to carry through on desegregation promises made following mass demonstrations of last summer. They spoke at a press conference following a meeting of 200 Negro leaders from throughout Alabama.

"This is the beginning of a massive effort to break down barriers of segregation and discrimination in this state," Dr. King said.

He told the group, "This is the greatest meeting of our state conference in terms of concrete proposals to change the unjust situation."

The Rev. Nelson Smith of Birmingham, state president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), of which Dr. King is the national head, outlined a statewide program that is to be directed out of Montgomery.

"If the civil rights bill does not pass intact I think America is in for a dark night of social disruption," Dr. King said.

He said, "Birmingham stands as a symbol of the revolution of 1963."

Dr. King also said there was "a possibility" a mass Negro march would be held on the state capital here similar to the March on Washington last year.

"Demonstrations are necessary in Alabama... to bring the cause to the forefront of the nation's conscience," he said.

The Rev. Nelson Smith of Birmingham, state president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), of which Dr. King is the national head, outlined a statewide program that is to

Viet Cong Vanquish Platoon Of Militiamen In Mountains

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. authorities said Wednesday Viet Cong guerrillas wiped out a platoon of South Vietnamese militiamen in the mountains of Quang Ngai province, 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Outnumbered 2-1, the self-defense force lost 5 killed, 15 wounded and 12 missing in a fight late Tuesday. Four machine guns were among 30 government weapons apparently carried off by the Communists. Viet Cong casualties were not determined.

This was the third significant action of Tuesday in a war that U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is giving another first-hand look later this week.

In the other two, previously reported, two American advisers were among the dead. They were Capt. Morris R. McBridge of Columbus, Ga., killed 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and Capt. Thomas W. McCarthy of Fayetteville, N.C., killed near the Cambodian frontier.

Usually reliable sources said strongman Premier Nguyen Teachers Cut Class Jersey City, N.J. (AP)—More than 600 teachers skipped class in a one day boycott for higher pay, causing the city's public schools to close an hour early.

Khanh Has Promoted Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc to Major General and Assigned him to Command the Vietnamese Army's 11th Corps. Almost all the 4th Corps area, on the southern tip of Viet Nam, is Red-dominated.

Duc replaces Brig. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co. There was no immediate information on a new assignment for Co.

LBJ Girls Spin Discs From Classics To Beatles

Thursday, March 5, 1964 The Lincoln Star 35

Washington (UPI) — Like most American homes where teenagers live, the White House is echoing these days to the lively beat of top pop hits and Broadway show tunes.

A much-played favorite, understandably, is Irving Berlin's "The Secret Service Makes Me Nervous."

Portable record players in the second-floor bedrooms of President Johnson's daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Luci Baines, 16, play everything from the classics to the shouts of that sheepdog foursome, the Beatles.

Their stacks of records, which they swap back and forth, reflect a wide range of musical tastes. But Broadway holds a special charm, and Berlin's plaintive tribute to the Secret Service has special significance.

The Johnson girls first heard it when they saw the musical, "Mr. President," in Washington before it moved to Broadway for a short-lived run. That was in 1962, before they moved into the White House.

The song in the show is an imaginary president's daughter's complaint about the Secret Service agent who accompanies her on dates.

Lynda and Luci have come to sympathize with their counterpart in the musical. Secret Service agents follow them everywhere, on dates and even in their classrooms at school.

When they're home relaxing, one close friend said, "They don't avoid the classics but just for casual listening, they tend generally to popular and show music."

The Beatles, whom both like but failed to meet during their Washington visit last month, are heard now and then. Much more frequently, Luci plays the latest records of pop singer Johnny Mathis and Ray Coniff. Lynda likes the songs of Nat "King" Cole, among others.

Both also like popular folk music, including the ditties of the New Christy Minstrels, who performed at the White House after a recent state dinner for visiting Italian President Antonio Segni.

Luci is the most musical of the Johnson family. She has studied piano for the past six years and has even composed some melodies of her own.

This year, Luci is honorary chairman of the National Symphony Orchestra's Youth Concert program here. Both girls will be hostesses March 31 at a White House symphony concert for foreign embassy children.

MONEY TO DOUBLE PEACE CORPS SIZE APPROVED

Washington (UPI) — The House Wednesday overwhelmingly approved $115 million to double the size of the Peace Corps to 14,000 volunteers.

The Senate-passed measure was approved on a voice vote and sent to the White House.

The final congressional action authorized every penny asked by the administration for the most popular foreign aid program on Capitol Hill.

A demand by Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, to cut the authorization by $20 million was defeated, 309 to 90.

Biartisan backers argued successfully that the program proved young Americans weren't soft, hurt Communist efforts in underdeveloped nations and created a worldwide image of "the good American."

There now are 7,000 volunteers in 46 different countries, mostly in Latin America and Africa. Last year the corps was given $98 million by Congress, but Director Sargent Shriver managed to return a healthy surplus at the end of the year.

McCook Street Job Delayed

The proposed widening of "B" St. in McCook will not be included in the State Highway Department's March contract letting.

However, State Engineer John Hossack said Wednesday this was not because of a Red Willow District Court suit asking that the project to eliminate parking on that street in the city be dropped.

Hossack said a part of the project scheduled for the March letting was not included because all the necessary right-of-way had not been obtained in time.

Nine McCook residents, calling themselves "Friends of 'B' St.," filed the suit against the city and the Highway Department. They contend the agreement by the city to bar all vehicular parking on "B" St. is illegal because it would blind future city councils to that policy. The suit asks the court to declare this agreement "null and void."

U.S. 6-34 passes through McCook via "B" St.

The city has agreed that once the street is widened parking will be prohibited.

WOMEN PAST 21 WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headache, backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in urine, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at drugists. Feel better fast.

State Dept. Takes Lyndon Off Aid-To-Spain Hook

Washington (AP) — The government decided Wednesday that Spain has taken "appropriate steps" to cut shipments to Cuba, and therefore can continue to receive large-scale U.S. aid.

The decision, announced by the State Department, saved President Johnson from having to make a formal determination whether to continue the $30-million-a-year American arms program for Spain despite Spain's commerce with Cuba.

The U.S. announcement was brought on by a congressional mandate in the new foreign aid law banning aid to nations trading with Cuba.

On Feb. 18, four days after the mandate took effect, the State Department announced it was ending the small (total, about $50,000) remaining arms assistance programs for Britain, France and Yugoslavia.

It deferred action on the two other countries falling within the law's application, Spain and Morocco, which get sizable U.S. assistance.

Madrid has insisted on continuing its weekly scheduled flights to Havana, the only regular Western air service to Cuba, despite Washington's effort to isolate the Castro regime.

The Spanish say they want to keep up cultural ties with Cuba, a former Spanish colony, where some 200,000 Spaniards still live. Since the aid law does not forbid transport of persons, the commercial flights could be continued without forcing a U.S. aid cut-off.

Some Spanish ships have also called at Cuban ports from time to time, but their number has been small. Only 10 of 431 visits to Cuba by free world ships since Jan. 1, 1963, have been by Spanish vessels, according to U.S. figures.

The U.S. government, for its part, did not want to lose its big air and naval bases in Spain.

The bases include one at Rota near Gibraltar that will be used by U.S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean.

The faith that industrial advertisers have in newspapers as an advertising medium is attested to by the fact that they invested almost $18.5 billion nationally last year in daily newspapers all over the country.

Federal Authorities Charge Indiana Laborer In Florida Race Bombings

St. Augustine, Fla. (AP)—Federal authorities charged an Indiana laborer Wednesday with a Jacksonville race bombing and questioned him about blasts that wrecked railroad trains and an Alabama church.

William Sterling Rosecrans, 30, denied any connection with a series of dynamitings that derailed freight trains of the strikebound Florida East Coast Railway.

He was quoted as admitting he was in Alabama last fall when an explosion blew apart a Birmingham, Ala.,

Negro church, killing four children Sept. 16, 1963.

Signed Statement
Sheriff L. O. Davis said Rosecrans signed a statement admitting he bombed the Jacksonville home of a 6-year-old who is the only Negro pupil at an elementary school racially integrated by federal court order.

Rosecrans was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Donald DeKloff.

Oliver P. Weatherhold of the Florida Sheriffs Bureau

said Rosecrans was "the first real good suspect anybody has had" in the systematic destruction of FEC trains.

Weatherholt said Rosecrans fled Jacksonville Feb. 22 after he spotted FBI agents checking over his automobile. The agents found two dynamite sticks in the car, Weatherhold said, and 800 more dynamite sticks plus detonating gear were found buried behind a trailer home Rosecrans rented in Jacksonville.

'Exactly Same'
The Sheriffs Bureau investigator said the explosives were "exactly the same type" as those which have strewed FEC tracks from St. Augustine to Miami with splintered, blazing freight cars.

Two Birmingham police officers—Jefferson County Sheriff Mel Bailey and Police Chief Jamie Moore—left for Florida to quiz Rosecrans. Three men were convicted of illegally possessing dynamite following the September church bombing, but were never linked directly to any one case.

Police in Anderson, Ind., Rosecrans' former home, said he had a record dating back to 1947 and included charges of burglary and armed robbery.

Anderson Police Chief Doyle Wright described Rosecrans as "a loner who knew all the tricks."
